STATE OF MAINE
STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES & CORRECTIONS
REPORT OF AN INSPECTION OF THE WINDHAM TOWN FARM

Made October 13, 1923

Administration

Mr. and Mrs. Albion L. Bacon are superintendent of the Farm at a salary of $1,000 per year. They have been at this farm for three years previous to which they were at the Gorham Town Farm four years.

Conditions Observed

There are two inmates, one man 75 years of age and one woman 70 years of age. Largest number present during the year, five. The house has a normal capacity of twelve. The house was especially clean, sunny and comfortable. It is a very homelike place. There are several easy chairs and plenty of reading matter is provided. If anyone entertains horrible thoughts of the almshouse, a visit to this almost ideal almshouse would quickly change the impression. It is one of the few almshouses in the State that would meet with the approval of the public. The administration is businesslike. The farm is a financial asset to the town. There is a large herd of Ayrshire cattle housed in a modern cattle barn which cost $3,500. This barn is splendidly equipped and would serve as a model for farmers in that section who desire to improve their barns. Of the forty-two head of cattle, fourteen are registered and the Superintendent plans to work for the advance registration of some of the cattle.

There were 272 cans of fruit in the cellar. On the day of inspection the Superintendent was engaged in hanging corn in the attic. He estimated that carrying the sweet corn directly to the factory would net him $125. The same amount of corn dried and sold in the Spring would net $450. This is a sample of the efficient management of the Farm.

Recommendations

1. Electric lights should be installed. This is recommended in the interest of safety and economy.
2. A modern manure pen should be built.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Superintending School Committee submit the following report:

At the last annual town meeting the school committee asked the town to appropriate $8,000 for common schools. This amount with the balance of last year seemed only sufficient to cover the cost of the schools for the year. But by making some changes in our teaching force, we are able to close our books with a balance in favor of the town.

Extensive repairs have been made on the Friends, Ireland, and Bodge schools, at a large expense, owing to the high price material and labor.

At the annual town meeting a committee was appointed to confer with the School Committee and Selectmen to decide what should be done to the school house at New-hall. The building being small, and in poor condition, many of the pupils attended the J. A. Andrews school, making a long walk for many of them.

At a meeting of this committee it was decided that a two room building would be necessary to care for the 8 grades represented there. In June a special town meeting was called and $3,600 was appropriated to cover the expense. The work was in charge of Mr. Grant, owing to the surrounding conditions and the unavoidable delay, the expense was much greater than anticipated. The school was opened November 13, adding a new teacher to our pay roll.

According to the State law it is necessary for the town to provide standard sanitary outhouses for rural schools. This act has been extended until 1927. The committee feel that steps should be taken toward installing such a system at our high school, as meets the favor of the towns people not later than 1924.

Little can be said about the conditions that exist at the J. A. Andrew school. It speaks for itself.

The committee recommends the following appropriations.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of the Town of Windham:

I herewith submit my second annual report of the schools of Windham.

General Financial Statement

We have apportioned the State School Fund of $3,939.90 as follows:

To support of Common Schools,	$ 3,039 90
To support of High School,	900 00
	$ 3,939 90

The balance shown in the Common and High school accounts will take care of the pay roll up to March 1st, and leave enough surplus to cover the overdraft in all other school departments. By Chapter 173, Section 11 of Public Laws of Maine, 1921, we are allowed to use the State School Fund for these purposes: Teachers' salaries, transportation, tuition and board of pupils, janitors, fuel, books and supplies for High and Elementary Schools. We thus feel we are carrying the schools to March 1st, entirely within our appropriations. $800 has enabled us to improve our supply of books somewhat. If we can have a similar appropriation next year, we shall be able to continue to improve our stock a little, as well as take care of the usual depreciation of books resulting from normal wear.

During the years of unusually high costs and scarcity of materials, there has been an effort to economize, so far as possible, on books, supplies and repairs, awaiting a return to normal conditions.

Repairs

Last year it seemed that action could no longer be postponed. Consequently, your appropriation of $1,500 for Common School Repairs has made possible the following:

Friends School—Interior paint, paper and whiting.

Bodge School—Interior paint, paper and whiting.

Bodge School—Exterior paint.

Kennard School—Interior paint and whiting.

Ireland School—Interior paint and redecorating.

Ireland School—Repairs on foundation and chimney.

Newhall School—Purchase of part of the seats used to refurnish the building.

Newhall

The old building at Newhall has been entirely remodeled and is now a fine two-room building, modern in its design and equipment and furnished with new adjustable individual seats and desks. Some few extras in the way of blackboards, maps, etc remain to be furnished. The outside should be painted, yard cleaned, enlarged, etc. You may then take just pride in this fine new building and its surroundings.

High School

The High School has been painted on the outside and wainscoting placed around the walls of the main room, hall and class rooms. This affords protection to the walls as well as improves the appearance of the building.

The stage platform has been enlarged thru the generosity of Mr. Thomas Varney, Mrs. Douglass and Mr. Fred Haskell. It is now much more suitable for any production which the school may wish to stage.

There still remain three problems confronting the High School:

1. Water is needed for fire protection, for the operation of the toilet system which must soon be installed, and for school and laboratory use.
2. The heating plant is inadequate, some rooms being practically useless in winter because of inability to heat them.
3. The laboratory should be sheathed with some non-combustible material, both for warmth and safety, and provided with closets for storage and protection of apparatus and chemicals.

J. A. Andrew School

One of the most immediate needs is a new building for the school at South Windham. The old J. A. Andrew building is badly crowded. With the rapidly growing industrial life around it, there seems no doubt that nothing less than a new four-room building will fill the present need also provide for the years of the immediate future.

Further repairs are needed at the Ireland, Kennard, Friends, Center, Bodge and Anderson Schools. Part of these repairs will include Standard Outbuildings as required by law.

Friends, Center and Kennard Schools

The Friends School is increased to the point where provisions should soon be made for extra room and another teacher.

Can we not unite our efforts and provide a good two-teacher building for the children of the Center, Friends and Kennard Schools at one place, thereby securing the advantages of such a school for all the children? Two teachers in one building would do more efficient educational work than three teachers under the present system. Why should children be so penalized when the distances are so short and expense so small as the above would involve?

I have dwelt at length on repairs completed and future needs. This outline, at first, looks rather formidable. It involves an outlay too great to be covered in a single year. It would seem advisable to enter upon a program covering two or three years with the accomplishment of the above objects in view. As to the ability of Windham to bear this burden, I will cite the following:

A table of statistics made from towns of Cumberland County shows the municipal tax rates of 26 towns range from .026 to .052. Windham is fifth from the lowest with a rate of .0315. Rates of school tax range from .0051 to .0131. Windham is eighth from the lowest with a school rate of .00797. These comparisons, together with the presence of a growing industrial as well as agricultural life indicate it is possible to secure for the children of Windham educational advantages of such nature as to make it an attractive town to prospective residents who appreciate good schools for children at a reasonable cost.

Our schools have been conducted during the past year along the same general lines as has previously proved successful. Many of our best, as well as most experienced teachers, have remained with us. Some changes and some additions have been made.

Our High School retains two of its former teachers while Miss Melcher and Mr. Shaw have filled places left by Miss Dean and Mr. Tozier in the Domestic Science and Agricultural Departments. The High School year has been a successful one. By your support and helpful criticism, we hope it will grow to greater usefulness in the years to come.

The J. A. Andrew School is having a most prosperous year under the excellent instruction afforded by a trio of our best teachers, Mr. Libby, Mrs. Bailey and Miss Knight. Individually they have proven their worth in the past. Collectively they make a most successful team.

The year at Newhall has been broken by the delay on the new building. Timely aid was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Thoms whereby the school was allowed to use their sun-parlor from October 1st till the new building was ready for occupancy. We thus lost four weeks in the Fall for the first four grades. One week was made up at Christmas and we hope to make additional time in the Spring and Summer. Many of the upper grade pupils attended school at South Windham till the new building was opened.

We have been very fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Brown and Miss Davies for this school. The year with their continued work will prove most worthwhile.

We were unfortunate at Windham Hill School in not being able to secure a permanent teacher in the Fall. Miss Morrill came for the Fall Term, then as she previously planned, returned to Farmington to finish her Normal School Course. A most efficient teacher is now in charge there. We hope Miss Gould will finish the year with us.

Miss Hawkes, Miss Cartland, Miss Allen, Miss Brown and Mrs. Main remained with their schools as last year. The results of their continued services go to further establish the truth of the contention that one-year stops at best are not conducive to the best interest of schools. Only after several years at the same place, can the results of real teaching be appreciated.

Miss Clark at North Windham, Miss Beatty at Friends, Miss Poor at Ireland and Miss Bodge at Kennard are new members of our staff. They have all, without exception, made good and we are glad they are here.

We have carefully estimated the probable needs for school purposes for the coming year. These estimates are given in the report of your School Committee. I trust you will give them careful consideration.

In closing, let me thank the School Board for their conservative council and unfailing support during the past year. I also wish to express to the people of Windham my appreciation of the interest and cooperation which they have shown. By such continued endeavors you may be assured of a successful future for your schools.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. PRATT, Supt. of Schools.

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL

To Mr. Charles H. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit a report of the conditions and needs of Windham High School.

Our enrollment this year has been fifty-eight. Although this is not quite as large as the number of pupils registered last year, we feel encouraged in that very few pupils are leaving school this year, fifty-five of the fifty-eight registered being still with us. Furthermore, at least one of the three who have left our school is continuing her education in another high school.

SCHOLARSHIP

We teachers feel that a majority of our pupils are showing a good spirit and interest in their studies. The Scholarship Honor Roll system which was begun last year is being continued this year. According to this plan pupils receiving an average rank of ninety-three or higher for a period of six weeks receive high honors for that time, while those whose rank averages from eighty-seven to ninety-two are given general honors. The parents of our pupils can do much to help their boys and girls do their best work in high school by encouraging regular home study, and also by arranging so that their children can have a quiet room for that home study. Surely this, the primary purpose of the school, merits the sincere co-operation of all.

AIMS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDIES

The work of the Agricultural and Home Economics Departments is this year as always is explained under special reports. This year we teachers are also telling our aims in the academic studies of the school. In this part of the report each teacher has made the explanations for the subjects which he or she teaches.

Four courses in Science are taught, including Physics, Chemistry, General Science and Biology. Physics and Chemistry are not taught each year, but alternating, Physics one year and Chemistry the next.

Everyone knows how important the study of Science is. Think for a minute of the wonderful things Science has given the world in the last decade. The aim in Sciences at Windham High School is to emphasize such objectives as health, worthy home membership, vocation, citizenship, and worthy use of leisure time.

General Science is taught by a topic method. The topics are large units such as combustion, water, air and weather, light and its benefits, work and energy, and the forces of nature.

The World War has emphasized health as a basis end of education. Biology deals directly with this problem. Other aims in Biology may be enumerated as follows: first, to develop the pupil's interest in life by giving a first hand acquaintance with plant and animal neighbors; secondly, to emphasize human activities, general and human welfare, and especially to familiarize the pupils with the structure and functions of their own bodies, so that they may live healthfully, happily, and usefully; thirdly, to enrich the lives of the pupils through the aesthetic appeal of plants and animals, so that they may appreciate and enjoy nature.

Physics is taught this year, and the aims may be enumerated as follows: first, organization of the course to meet the nature and needs of the pupils, bearing in mind adolescent characteristics and individual differences; secondly, to select and present the subject matter so that it will be actually usable when needed; thirdly, to bring out the great discoveries and achievements of Physics; fourthly, to develop as far as possible scientific insight, and to acquaint the pupils with the lives of some of the great leaders in Science, especially those who were obliged to make great effort or to undergo great sacrifice in their efforts to establish truth.

Ancient History is a subject which is considered the basis for clear understanding in regard to the dawn of civilization. This knowledge enables the students to realize the origin and continuance of certain laws, customs and culture which the ancient countries offered the world, each in its turn as the World Empire. The aims in this class are many, a few of them being: to gain a knowledge of the great men of those times, who have stood the test of the ages; to acquire a knowledge of the contributions of each country to the world in regard to culture, government, conquests, and civilization; and to comprehend a contrast of the wonders of that era compared with the wonders of the present day.

In our work in United States History we are trying: to give our pupils an understanding of the important events in the history of our country together with the causes and results of those events; to help them to a better appreciation of our great national leaders and their services in building our nation; to enable them to understand the Constitution of the United States and its application to affairs of today; to aid them in comprehending words and expressions commonly used in relation to United States History and Government; to give them a better grasp of present-day national problems through a study of how these problems have developed; to teach them to appreciate historical literature; and to assist them in obtaining a clearer understanding of our national problems of today by means of studying current events.

Through these efforts we hope to make our students more loyal, broader minded, and more intelligent American citizens.

By the study of Community Civics we are influencing our pupils to be loyal and intelligent members of their community through the study of such problems as health, roads and streets, fire protection, parks and playgrounds, making the community neat and attractive, public libraries, schools, and churches. We are helping our students to a better understanding and appreciation of Maine through the study of its history, its noted men and women, its institutions, its industries, its popularity as a summer resort, and its government. We are aiming to give an elementary knowledge of town, city, county, state, and national government. We are teaching the meaning of some of the important words and phrases commonly used with reference to governmental affairs. We are endeavoring also to give some knowledge of current national questions. The special aim of this course is good citizenship.

In our Latin classes our purposes are to give our pupils a knowledge of the Latin language and an ability to read and write it; to train them to use better English through careful translation of the Latin; to give them a clearer understanding of the English Language through using and comparing English along with the Latin; to help them gain some understanding of the customs and life of the Roman People and the contributions of Roman civilization to the civilization of our own time; and to show them reasons why Latin should be studied by American high school students.

Our aims in the French classes are: to teach our students to translate and write simple French correctly; to train them in pronunciation; to give them practice in hearing French read; to enable them to write simple letters in French; to help them acquire the ability to speak easy French; and to give them some knowledge of France, its people, and their customs and life.

This year Commercial Arithmetic is being taught for a half year in the Freshman class. It is of practical value to all students as only subjects of real, definite worth are considered. Some of the purposes of Commercial Arithmetic are to develop power in mental work, to study quick methods of computation, and to gain both speed and accuracy in the solution of problems.

Algebra is a subject which is very helpful in the study of other subjects such as Physics and advanced mathematics. Algebra aims to develop ability to reason clearly and logically, to apply general principles to new problems, and to train in careful reading.

Geometry trains in the habits of neatness and accuracy, of precise thought and accurate expression. It calls for rigorous thinking and develops self-reliance.

One of the first requisities in life is the knowledge of good English. Our English courses in the high school offer material by which a student may advance to a greater plane. The purposes of these courses are two-fold, to cultivate power in expression and power in thinking. The English courses develop these powers of thought and expression by the work in composition and the work in literature.

The aims set forth in the Freshmen and Sophomore classes in English are as follows: the instilling in the pupils of an art for the appreciation of good books; the mastery of the English language by the pupils; the use of correct English in the pupils' themes as well as in their everyday speech, through the aid of written compositions for the former and of oral current events for the latter; and the showing to the pupils the need of a broader vocabulary and of correct English for expression in the other subjects offered in the curriculum.

The work in composition of the Junior and Senior English classes covers a wide range. First in importance is the oral composition. As a basis for oral theme assignments the Scholastic is being used. The purposes of this oral work are to teach the pupils to speak correct English and to prepare them to speak easily and naturally in public if called upon to do so. Some of the points stressed are: correct pronunciation, enunciation, grammatical structure of sentences, grace and ease of posture, and ability to organize and keep in mind the subject matter of a theme of considerable length. Much attention is, of course, also given to written composition, emphasis being placed on punctuation, sentence structure, spelling, vocabulary building, and an increased ability to write vividly and interestingly. Grammar and rhetoric also have their place in the curriculum as a basis for both better written and better spoken English.

The aims in literature of the upper classes are: to cultivate in the student a taste for good literature; to enlarge his vocabulary through contact with the works of great writers; to teach the pupil to read understandingly; and to instill in him high ideals of living.

In the Senior class this year we are placing emphasis upon debating, both informal and formal. During the year the Seniors plan to give one or two formal debates before the school. These debates are very helpful in several ways, one of the most important being that they enable the speakers to pick out the main issues in a question and to discuss these logically without rambling from the point in debate.

We teachers invite the citizens of the town, especially the parent and friends of our pupils, to visit our classes.

PRIZES

The Alumni Association has again offered its Senior prize.

In competition for the Governor Andrew prize the members of the Junior English class are writing this year on the subject, The Character of King Alfred of England.

SPEAKING CONTEST

We expect the school to enter the Y. M. C. A. County Speaking Contest again this year. The local contest will be held in High School hall.

THE WINDONIAN

In most progressive high schools of the present time one of the activities which arouses the interest of the pupils and contributes to a strong school spirit is the school paper. In this respect our school surely ranks well with others of its size. However, the financial support of the paper is a matter that causes serious concern to those responsible for its success. But for the generosity of the business and professional men who advertise in it the Windonian could not be published. Let us all who are interested in the school and its activities show our appreciation to the advertisers by patronizing them as much as we can. We hope that the business and professional alumni and friends of the school, especially those of Windham will help the paper this year by contributing advertisements toward its maintenance.

ATHLETICS

One of the greatest influences in increasing and maintaining school loyalty is athletics. This year we are proud and rightly so, of our girls' basketball team for it has won eight of the nine games played thus far this season. The boys' team has not been very successful but has shown improvement since the beginning of the season. It has been handicapped by the fact that nearly all the teams are playing on it regularly for the first time this year. With regard to basketball our school is under a disadvantage because there is no hall large enough for good practice near the school. Therefore, the teams do not get as much practice as they ought to have. When we pause to consider that most of the schools with which we play have better facilities for practice than Windham High, we may congratulate our teams upon the degree of success which they win.

It is to be hoped that the time will come when our school and all others of its size can have a gymnasium properly equipped for physical training and athletic games, although we all realize that for financial reasons such facilities are at present impossible.

Through the helpful influence of the Cumberland County Y. M. C. A. a series of swimming tests was given early in the fall term to those boys of our school who wished to participate in them, and certificates and emblems were awarded by County Secretary Coates to those who passed the tests successfully. Later, Windham High School entered the series of athletic events conducted under the direction of Secretary Coates. Eight of our boys won points in this contest. Of sixteen schools of Cumberland County taking part in these events Windham High School stood second.

We are hoping to have a contest of games for the girls of the school this spring.

The boys of the school are planning to form a track team this spring.

SCHOOL LIBRARY

One of the helpful phases of high school education is that it leads the student to a wider acquaintance with famous writers and good books. To promote this influence over our young people the State of Maine requires by law that every town maintaining a Class A High school must appropriate annually at least seventy-five dollars toward the high school library. From this fund we have added to our library during the last school year various works of history, biography, fiction, and home economics, including some of the writings of Dickens and Cooper, and biographies of Louisa M. Alcott, Florence Nightingale, Lafayette, Jackson, Webster, Grant, Mark Twain, and Edison.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

We tried this year to observe American Education Week in the high school by inviting the parents of our pupils to make a special effort to visit the school and by holding a public meeting in the interest of education. A few parents and friends visited the school and we appreciated their coming. However, we regret that not more came. We want them to feel that they are welcome at the school and that they are an important part of the school life. We wish that many more visits by parents and friends might be made during the year. Pleasant River Grange very helpfully cooperated by holding a public meeting with Superintendent Donnell of the Reformatory for Men as the speaker.

THE SCHOOL AND HOME CLUB

In order to promote a closer relationship between the homes of high school pupils and the high school a plan known as the School and Home Club has been formed in our State. According to this plan all parents of high school pupils and all citizens having a live interest in the high school, including the alumni, are invited to become members of this club. Regular meetings may be held according to some practical arrangement, as once a month, the program to consist of literary and musical numbers, a short business meeting, an opportunity for informal conference between parents and teachers regarding the welfare of pupils, and a social-recreation period for games. All teachers and pupils of the school are also eligible to membership. We commend this plan to the parents of our pupils and to the alumni and all friends of our school.

for thoughtful consideration. If it seems practicable to give the School and Home Club a trial here in Windham, there will be an opportunity to do so in the spring after the roads have become settled. Certainly with our school hall for a meeting place we can have pleasant and profitable evenings together.

OUTSIDE SPEAKERS

Another policy of Windham High School is to secure outside speakers for instructive and inspirational talks to the students. During the past year we have had the following persons address the school: Rev. James E. Aikens, Rev. Bertha V. Smith, Rev. Ivan Banks, and Mr. Carroll Hawkes of Windham, Mr. F. L. Shaw of the Shaw Business College, Supt. Harold Donnell of the Reformatory for Men, Rev. O. Herschel Folger of Lynn, Mass., Major Geere and Capt. Batchelder of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, Rev. Anna Mendenhall of Cleveland, Ohio, and Col. Edward S. Anthoine Jr. of Portland.

IMPROVEMENTS

Surely those of us whose duties bring us in contact with the school appreciate the improved appearance of the outside and the new wainscoting in the interior of the building due to a special appropriation made at the town meeting of 1923.

The following improvements in our school building are greatly needed: first, running water, both for drinking purposes and for use in the Home Economics department; secondly, a sanitary toilet system for the appearance of the school grounds and for the health of the school; thirdly, electric lights in the recitation rooms on the main floor so that on dark days the pupils' eyes can be properly protected; and, fourthly, a proper heating system so that the pupils can have warm cloak rooms, in order that the hall and the recitation rooms can be heated at the same time, and so that all the class rooms will be usable during the winter.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD P. COBB,
Principal of Windham High School.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

To Charles H. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools:

There are fifteen boys enrolled in the Agricultural Course. Four of which are Freshmen, five Sophomores, two Juniors and four Seniors.

The course in Vocational Agriculture is designed to familiarize the boys with the modern methods of practical farming. The state and federal governments are back of this project and they are expending large sums of money in trying to make it a success. The Agricultural Course is not an independent unit, for it aims to cooperate with all the local farmers in the advancement of Agriculture in this community.

The study of Agriculture is not confined only to the study of text books and reference materials in the class room but it includes many other phases, which go to make the work more practical as well as interesting. Supervised practical work is done by each student enrolled. The greater part of this being done during the summer vacation. Many practical problems are worked out during the school year, which include: (1) problems in Orchard-ing, such as Pruning, Grafting, Spraying, and Grading; (2) the care of a Garden and Hot Bed; (3) problems in Poultry such as Crate Fattening, Killing and Dressing. Field trips are taken for demonstration and observation purposes. The Agricultural students have witnessed such demonstrations as Apple Packing, Timber Land Estimation, Cutting Silage Corn, Filling a Silo, Drilling a Well, and Butchering a Beef Creature. All the above mentioned demonstrations are real farm problems and are of such a nature that it would be practically impossible to carry them on at the school house. The demonstrations which we attend are usually carried on by experts with the best of equipment, and this has proved to be a successful method of instruction.

The course of study covers a period of four years, during which time all the important phases of Practical Farming are treated with. The students study in two groups, the Freshmen and Sophomores comprising one group and the Juniors and Seniors the other.

During the school year 1923-1924 the Freshmen and Sophomores are making a thorough study of such farming enterprises as Poultry, Beans, Forage Crops, Horses, Sheep and Bees. The Juniors and Seniors are studying such farming enterprises as Beans, Forage Crops, Gardening, Small Fruits, Small Grains, Bees and Orchardring. A considerable amount of shop work is done by each group. This includes many problems in the wood working and acquaints the boys with the use of tools.

The boys who are enrolled in the course appear to be very much interested and with plenty of whole hearted local support I believe Agriculture can be made one of the most beneficial courses of study at Windham High School.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. SHAW,

Agricultural Instructor.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

To Charles H. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools:

Each year there seems to be an increase of girls in the Home Economics department. At the beginning of this school year there were twenty-five girls enrolled in the three lower classes. The Senior class was not represented during the first semester although there will be one additional student from that class at the beginning of February, who will elect sewing for the rest of the year.

The popularity of this department is made certain by the demands made upon it. The Junior class were called upon to serve a supper to the Fathers and Sons of Windham who hold a banquet each year during the fall term. The girls are as greatly rewarded by fulfilling these demands as the ones who benefit by them; for actual practice is a sure key to knowledge and success. They will prepare and serve dinner to the school board early in the spring. This dinner is usually served in the winter but owing to the cold weather it will be more convenient to serve later.

The girls are faithfully serving some hot dish at noon to the student who bring their lunches. This hot dish is usually either cocoa or soup. The money obtained from the sale of these is used for equipment which could not be otherwise provided. The girls have voted upon purchasing an electric coffee percolater which will be a great convenience when serving a dinner.

The subjects taught in this department are many, including the care and serving of foods, planning and cooking of meals, invalid cookery, hygiene, house furnishing and management problems; from the sewing point of view the subjects studied are dress making, darning, patching, textiles, fancy-work, laundering, and uniforms. At present there is a decrease of two pupils from the Freshman class due to living a great distance from school in one case and the circumstances of the other is unknown. Even so, Home Economics has its place in the rural school as well as elsewhere and the increase continually each year is a good recommendation for its maintenance.

Respectfully submitted,

PAMELIA MELCHER

Instructor Home Economics.

The overlay allowed by law in assessing taxes is intended to cover our unexpected overdrafts. The use of this fund by vote of Town to cover expenditures except for small amounts makes it difficult to keep within our income. Except for this our finances make a creditable showing.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Superintending School Committee submit the following report:

Since our last annual town meeting the town of Windham has met with two quite severe losses. The Newhall school building which had been remodeled a few months before at a cost of $4,400, burned on March 12, together with all the books, fuel, and a part of the seats. This was soon followed by the destruction of the J. A. Andrew schoolhouse by fire on March 29. But no cloud is without its silver lining, for the old building, which was more or less of a fire trap, burned fortunately when no school was in session. This situation was quickly met however by securing temporary quarters for the Newhall School in the homes of Mrs. Verge and Mrs. Barns, and of the John A. Andrew School in Oriental Hall.

The School Board immediately procured drawings and estimates of the probable costs of replacing these buildings and asked the Selectmen to call a special town meeting to raise the necessary funds. At that meeting the town voted to rebuild both structures on their former sites, and placed $25,000 at the disposal of the building committee. Afterwards finding this sum inadequate to meet the cost of such buildings and equipment as was deemed necessary, the town voted to increase this sum to $33,500.

The construction of the J. A. Andrew building was in charge of a committee consisting of the Selectmen, the School Board, Geo. W. Freiday, George Andrew and W. K. Foster. The Contract was awarded to True B. Coffin of Westbrook. Much assistance was received through the kindness of the Trustees of the State Reformatory who contributed men to help build the foundation. The inspection of this building was under the direction of C. A. Hanson of Portland.

The construction of the Newhall building was in charge of a committee consisting of the Selectmen, School Board, Charles E. Thayer, R. N. Toms and Harry Plummer. The contract was awarded to Weeks and Milliken of Portland, and the inspection was in charge of Mr. Perley Mitchell of So. Windham. Through the personal solicitation of Mr. Toms the E. I. Dupont Co. have agreed to contribute $1,000 toward the cost of the construction of the building. Both buildings were completed in a very satisfactory manner.

As our books closed on Jan. 1 this year instead of Feb. 1 as in previous years, there is left a somewhat larger balance than usual in favor of the appropriation for teaching and transportation in the common schools and teaching in the High School.

During the past year a new ceiling, a new floor, and other minor repairs have been made on the Anderson school building, and a new woodshed and toilets to comply with the State law have been built at the Ireland school-house.

The School Board feel that there will need to be some changes made at the Friends School this coming year, as there are about 40 pupils and 8 grades which means more work than any one teacher can do satisfactorily.

Conditions at the High School building are very unsatisfactory. We feel that there will need to be some change made in the heating apparatus. Many times this winter as in previous winters two recitations have had to be held in one room at the same time, as it was impossible to heat one recitation room above 50 degrees, and in reaching this temperature it would force the temperature of the main room to 80 degrees, and sometimes higher.

In compliance with the vote of the last annual Town

Meeting the School Board have consulted engineers concerning the water and toilet system at the High School building, and also the heating, and will have some definite plans to place before the town at the next annual meeting. Owing to the changes in the basement which the installing of heat, water and toilets will necessitate, your School Committee deemed it unwise to use the appropriation for repairs made at the last annual meeting only so far as immediate needs required.

The committee recommends the following appropriations:

Common Schools

Teaching and transportation,	$ 8,500' 00
Fuel,	1,000 00
Janitor,	1,200 00
Text books,	875 00
Supplies,	750 00
Repairs, cleaning and toilets,	1,200 00

High School

Teaching,	$ 4,500 00
Fuel,	300 00
Janitor,	500 00

School Committee of Windham.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of the Town of Windham:

I herewith submit my third annual report of the schools of Windham.

Finances

A detailed financial statement is made elsewhere in this report. The substantial balance in the Common and High School Accounts are intended to carry the schools to March 1st. Since the fiscal year closed one month earlier, it has made these balances unusually large.

The estimated cost of Common School Pay Roll and Transportation to March 1st is $2721.86. High School Pay Roll to March 1st, $1,277.74. These amounts are practically equal to the balances shown on the books January 1st.

The overdraft on the accounts for Books and Supplies was caused by the burning of the two schools. As will be seen in the School Budget, we are asking $75.00 extra for books for the coming year.

Building Program

The fires at South Windham and Newhall necessitated the erection of new quarters for those schools. The new buildings erected are modern and well adapted to the purposes for which they were designed, and are a credit to the town and a source of pride to the Communities. Four rooms at South Windham and three at Newhall should provide housing quarters for some years to come.

Extensive repairs have been made at the Anderson and Ireland Schools, up-to-date out-buildings having been added at Ireland.

The problem for the immediate future is heat and water for the High School, and relief of crowded condition at the Friends School.

Two rooms on the first floor of the High School are practically useless in cold weather though the heating plant is working at its capacity. An investment for teachers, together with the time and expense of 75 students, to say nothing of present fuel waste, is poor economy when the building is not sufficiently heated to permit classes to essemble in the rooms.

Full efficiency of the Laboratory and Domestic Science Courses is impossible for lack of water, and the old out-buildings, so prominent in the yard, are not a true indication of the progressive spirit of the Town of Windham.

At the Friends School, the work of the pupils and teachers is suffering from over-crowded and inadequate quarters. With over 40 children in eight grades crowded in such a building, satisfactory work is impossible. Each year that the school is run in this manner, is an accumulation of hardships for the children concerned. Their school days are too valuable to be thus neglected.

A modern two-room building with suitable play-ground space would care for the children of the Friends, Centre and Kennard Schools. This would be economy in the end.

Condition of Schools

Educationally, we have had a very profitable year. We are particularly fortunate in having as many of our good teachers remain with us and have been very successful in securing valuable additions in some new members of our staff.

The High School is having a very successful year. The attendance is larger than before, 75 being registered for the Fall Term. Mr. Bradford is proving to be a very capable and energetic Principal and he is ably supported by a trio with whom we are already familiar. Work there is going very satisfactorily and steadily approaching a higher standard.

The town has lost heavily by fire, yet, the enthusiastic co-operation of the citizens, teachers and pupils has shown that from the ruins of the old, they can rise to better things.

Hardly had the embers of the old building ceased to smoulder at So. Windham before the Knights of Pythias generously offered their building for the service of the school, and sessions continued to the end of the school year on schedule time. This Fall, owing to delay in finishing the new building, this school did not open until October 20th. Since then, however, work has progressed very smoothly and united effort is producing results of which all may well be proud.

During the last week of the Winter Term, the new building at Newhall was burned. Schools here also found temporary quarters and finished the year with the other schools of the town. We owe much to the hospitality of Mrs. Verge and Mrs. Barnes who opened their houses for school use.

Both schools were maintained at Mrs. Verge's house this Fall until the beginning of the Winter Term when the new building was ready. Some of the time lost in the Fall will be made up by giving a little time for vacation periods.

Other schools in town are following the regular schedule. North Windham, Centre and Knight Schools are enjoying continued progress with the same teachers as a year ago. Miss Beatty is at Windham Hill where she is showing results as we had reason to expect when she took the school in hand. Kennard, Ireland and Anderson Schools are taught by young teachers who are new with us this year, but who are proving to be very successful. We were sorry to lose Miss Brown from the Bodge School. Two teachers there during this year make an unavoidable break in the regular development of the program. Conditions at the Friends School, as outlined before, make the best work impossible, altho Miss Morrison is giving us good service against great odds.

The schools owe much to our many loyal friends and earnest teachers who, working together, have brought about a measure of success characteristic of united effort on the part of all. The members of the School Board, Selectmen, Building Committees, teachers, pupils and citizens thruout the town have worked earnestly and effectively toward better schools and I wish to express my appreciation of their efforts.

With such continued effort, our schools may hope for better and more useful days to come.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. PRATT,

Supt. of Schools.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL

To Mr. Charles H. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit my first report of the conditions and needs of Windham High School.

Conditions generally are favorable for good work. There is good harmony among the teachers, and between the teachers and community. The attitude of the students towards their teachers is especially good.

School has been run this year on the one session plan. While this works a little hardship on some of the students in the morning, it is more than offset by their ability to get home long before dark in the short winter afternoons. This plan is almost unanimously acceptable to the students. There have been for the first fifteen weeks only 183 cases of tardiness, over 90 of which were made by three students living within a mile of the school house.

We have a special problem here, and the best of co-operation on the part of parents and teachers is necessary to solve it. Where nearly all of the students have to take their dinners, as at Windham High, the noon hour under the two-session plan is often worse than wasted. It cannot be expected that seventy-five students will eat their dinners, and then sit down and keep still for an hour between sessions. As we have no gymnasium for recreation the school building would have to serve for that purpose. Under such conditions the school building would of necessity have to suffer, or, what is worse, in pleasant weather the students would loiter on the street.

One objection to the one-session plan is that some students do not go home immediately, but, on one pretext or another, manage to waste some valuable time. It is a question whether or not those same students would not waste their time under any plan. We are trying to work out a zone system for afternoon work so as to accomplish the greatest amount of work with least demand of overtime on the part of the student.

Parental oversight of study hours is very imperative if the best results are to be obtained. The high school course is planned on the assumption that the average student will devote not less than two hours to faithful study at home. If the student would do the work satisfactorily he should devote much more than two hours. In general we try to discourage social functions during the school week. Students need their evenings to prepare themselves for the next day.

Application has been made to secure the approval of the New England Board. Our inability thus far to secure such approval is due in part to the fact that comparatively few of our students are taking the college preparatory course. While this course is not expedient for all, yet it furnishes good liberal training and places the student in a better position to grasp any opportunities for further study in higher institutions of learning. A boy or girl at fourteen is hardly in a position to decide upon his life work. A change may be made from the college preparatory course to the other courses without detriment, but a change from the other courses to the college preparatory is a difficult proposition.

The excess credit system needs explanation perhaps.

It is calculated to give due recognition for extra work, and thereby stimulate the student to greater efforts. There are, unfortunately, too many students in our high schools whose sole aim is to "get by". They appreciate the fact that at graduation, and afterwards, there is no distinction between them and the students who have worked faithfully during the school course. We have devised this system so as to place before every student, whatever his standing may be, a higher mark at which to aim. This mark is an honor symbolized by a Red, Blue, Silver, Gold or Gold-Bar W, which is presented to the student earning it, as a part of the graduation exercises, and which he is permitted to wear until the day before the following graduation, except to the members of the graduating class who are permitted to wear their W's permanently. The number of honors has been made large so that the differences between them may be small, and thus not discourage the student from striving to secure a higher honor than the one he may happen to possess at any time. The Red is the lowest and the Gold-Bar the highest. The following is the basis for awarding the honors:

A subject pursued five times per week with a passing mark of 70%, 5 regular credits.

75% 5 regular credits and 1 excess credit.

80% 5 regular credits and 2 excess credits.

85% 5 regular credits and 3 excess credits.

90% 5 regular credits and 4 excess credits.

95% 5 regular credits and 5 excess credits.

Also a student may earn excess credits by reading and reporting on prescribed books, by making a letter on an athletic team, by competitive speaking, by appointment as student assistant, by taking part in a drama, and by his attendance record. He may lose one as a part of his punishment for a breach of good conduct.

A student having an average of:

4 excess credits per year is awarded a Red W.

8 excess credits per year is awarded a Blue W.

12 excess credits per year is awarded a Silver W.

16 excess credits per year is awarded a Gold W.

20 excess credits per year is awarded a Gold-Bar W.

The excess credits do not count towards graduation. The student must earn 80 regular credits, or 16 points, before receiving a diploma.

On graduation the diploma is sealed with an "Honor Seal" of the same color as the W he is entitled to wear permanently.

A temporary award of honors has been made for the balance of this year. The list of honor students is as follows:

Gold-Bar—Inez Wescott, Muriel Freeman.

Gold—Geneva Woodman, Christine McDonald.

Silver—Leonard Freeman, Marjorie Loveitt, Rachel Small, Ruth Seavey, Owena Sylvester, Frances Fogg, Lillian Lamb, Louise Kennard, Florence Ward, George Forbes, Robert Wescott, Bernice Lord, Mary Pendexter, Robert Stone, Henry Strout, Margaret Ward.

Blue—Helen Hawkes, William McPhee, Prescott Murphy, David Taylor, Charles LeGrow, John Nash, Carolyn Strout, Philip Cook, Etta Perkins, Lena Andrews, Pauline Sylvester, Doris Atherton, Raymond Eastup, Lillian Libby, Eudora Rogers, Julia Rogers, Elizabeth Stone.

Red—Virginia Lord, Cedric Foster, Helene Libby, Gladys Foye, Hazel Greenlaw, Lyndon Rogers, Isabel Hawkes, Gertrude Haskell, Ida McDonald, Lillian Browne, Dorothy Wescott.

The attendance for the first term of fifteen weeks has been very good considering the distances many of the students have to travel. Twenty-seven students have not been absent. The following students have a perfect attendance record: Lillian Browne, Julia Rogers, Eudora Rogers, Henry Strout, Margaret Ward, Helen Hawkes, Rachel Small, Gladys Foye, Carolyn Strout, Florence Ward, Russell Meehan, and Etta Perkins. The total enrollment was seventy-five; the average attendance seventy and four tenths. Two students were enrolled but did not stay long enough to be counted.

We observed educational week by inviting citizens in to inspect the regular work. The citizens responded well, there being one hundred and nine visitors during the week. The following week we held a parent-teacher meeting where we discussed plans for better co-operation.

Public speaking twice a year has been made compulsory. Every student receives three twenty minute rehearsals for each occasion. Through a process of elimination every student will compete for the honor of representing the school at the Interscholastic Speaking Contest at Portland. Last year Roger Bacon won first prize at Portland and spoke at the State Contest at Orono. There are two hundred forty-four carefully selected books in the library. These have been catalogued and placed in charge of a librarian. Provision should be made for adding shelves to the library. As it is not a good plan to allow promiscuous removals of books, the shelves should be cased in. Our present case is full. Beginning with the second half of the present year I shall condemn 10% of the net proceeds of all school entertainments, except those of the present senior class, to be used as a library fund.

From an athletic standpoint the year has been a successful one. The girls won eight out of nine basketball games. The boys won the interscholastic cross-country meet, and, although not winning their basketball games, they played as good sportsmen should. They played hard and clean with no "rough house" or bad language. To a rather high degree they have gotten the spirit that it is not a question of whether they "win or lose", but "how they play the game". Mr. Shaw deserves a good amount of credit for the getting of this spirit.

The school building is in good shape. Provision should be made for fixing a frame for the stage. At present it is necessary to drive nails into the floor. This method will soon ruin the floor. The heating is not satisfactory. The recitation rooms at times differ in temperature, the best we can do, from twenty to thirty degrees. Many times this winter we have found it necessary to conduct two classes in a room at the same time. This condition causes more or less confusion, endangers the health of the students, and lowers the efficiency of the teachers.

I enjoy my position here, I find the people cordial, the school officials efficient, the teachers loyal, and the students respectful and obedient.

Respectfully submitted,

H. L. BRADFORD,
Principal, Windham High School.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

To Mr. Charles H. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools:

The work in Vocational Agriculture at Windham High School during the school year 1924-1925 is a continuation of work started during the school year 1923-1924, as it requires two years to cover the outlined course of study.

The home project work, which is the most important phase of Vocational Agriculture, was carried on by the students during the summer months of 1924. Every project started was carried through and completed, and so far as possible, according to approved modern methods. Due to the co-operation of the parents, these projects are owned and managed by the boy. This fact alone arouses interest in the work being carried on and also has a tendency to arouse ambitions toward Agricultural pursuits.

A stock judging team, made up of Charles LeGrow, John Nash, and Russell Meehan, represented the Agricultural Department in a judging contest at Bangor Fair last August. There were thirteen teams in the contest, representing schools from every part of the State. Although the Windham boys did not bring back any prizes, they made a showing that was in no way a disgrace to the school which they represented. It is hard to estimate the benefits derived by the boys from an experience of this sort. They not only received training in selecting dairy animals of a desirable type, but they had an opportunity to mix, mingle, and rub elbows, so to speak, with the other fellow, and after all, this is a necessary part of the training of our farm boys of today, if they are to become the influential and prosperous farmers of tomorrow.

Out of a total of twenty-six undergraduate boys enrolled in the high school this year, eighteen are studying Agriculture. Among these eighteen boys there are seven freshmen, six sophomores, four juniors, and one senior. Six of the above mentioned boys live on farms of fifty or more tillable acres, three on farms of twenty-five to fifty, five on farms of ten to twenty-five, and four on farms of less than ten tillable acres. The enrollment of eighteen this year compared with twelve who completed the work last year shows quite a substantial gain.

The farm enterprises that are being considered by the first and second year students this year are: Soils and Fertilizers, Farm Crops, and Gardening. Those considered by the third and fourth year students are Orchard-ing and Dairying. Home project work will be required of every boy and particular emphasis will be placed upon stock judging and exhibiting at the near by fairs.

We were extremely fortunate in having Mr. King, a representative of The United States Department of Agriculture, from Washington, D. C., with us on December 10, 1924. He gave a lecture and demonstration on the United States Grades of Hay. He also touched upon some of the more important marketing problems and urged co-operation. This lecture and demonstration acquainted the boys with the most up to date knowledge along this particular line. It is the policy of the department to have the students take advantage of every opportunity to listen to men who are reputed as specialists or experts.

Those students who are particularly interested in Poultry visited, in a group, the State Poultry Exhibit in Portland. This gave the boys an opportunity to see and examine representative birds of all the important breeds of poultry.

Considering the facts that the chief occupation of this community is Agriculture, and that one of the chief objects of education is to prepare the young people for future citizenship, it seems that Vocational Agriculture is entitled to a place of importance in the High School curriculum. A very high percentage of the boys manifest their interest by choosing it as a course of study. These boys are bound to make better farmers, consequently better citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. SHAW,
Instructor of Agriculture.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Windham Center, Maine, Jan. 27, 1925.

To Mr. Charles H. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools:

In the history of the school, there has never been as large an enrollment in Home Economics as is shown this year. The four classes are prominently represented by thirty-six students; five Seniors, five Juniors, nine Sophomores, and seventeen Freshmen. Every girl in school but six has elected work in this department.

The linoleum floor covering which was laid last summer is greatly appreciated by all who use the laboratory. The girls added another cheery aspect by placing curtains at the windows. Everyone says that both are desirable additions.

Last year the Juniors served a dinner to the school board in the spring, and also an afternoon tea to the faculty. This year another class is planning a similar display of preparation and service. It is also my desire to reach the mothers of the girls in some way.

The course of study has been changed, somewhat. Last year the course was largely a study of Foods and Clothing while during this year the Seniors make a study of Dietetics and Clothing, the Juniors, Foods, Hygiene and Home Nursing; the Sophomores, Household Management, Foods and Household Decoration; and the Freshmen take up the study of Sewing, Textiles, and Foods.

As far as I can judge, the girls who are taking Home Economics are very greatly interested in the course and at home and elsewhere are making practical use of things attained in the school.

I feel that the girls take pride in their laboratory and that Home Economics has a very prominent place in Windham High School.

Respectfully submitted,

PAMELIA MELCHER.

WILLIAM C. HAWKES, Auditor.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Superintending School Committee submit the following report for the year of 1925:

At our last annual town meeting the Superintending School Committee submitted estimates and recommendations for changing the heating system putting in water and water closets (which call for an artesian well and pressure tank) and ceptic tank and disposal field, at the High School, and the town at said meeting voted to raise the sum of eight thousand dollars ($8,000.00) for this purpose and made the Superintending School Committee, the Selectmen and William C. Hawkes a committee to have the work done.

Plans and specifications were procured and approved by the committee and the State Superintendent of Schools.

Bids were advertised for and the contract awarded to Wells & Milliken of Portland. The job of drilling a well was let to J. L. Maxwell of Bridgton who drilled a well 123 feet deep which will flow from 15 to 20 gallons of water per minute.

Weeks & Milliken put in a steam heating system water system ceptic tank and disposal field and made some necessary changes in the building, and completed the work in a very satisfactory manner.

Carl B. Brackett of Westbrook was employed as inspector of the work.

There are many other things that need to be done in and about the High School building, the classrooms, hallways, cloak rooms and assembly hall all need redecorating, a book case built for books, the front steps fixed up and the grounds graded. Owing to crowded and unsatisfactory conditions of the school in the Friends District, the School Board met the parents of the district to determine what could be done to better conditions and after two or three meetings at the schoolhouse it was decided that the thing to do was to build a new building on a new lot and the matter was laid before the voters of the town at a special meeting June 25, 1925.

The town authorized the raising of the sum of nine thousand dollars ($9,000.00) to erect and equip a two-room school building on the town's land across the Gray road from the Friends meeting house and made the Superintending School Committee and the Selectmen a committee to have charge of the work.

The said building committee procured plans and specification for a two-room building with a basement water system, water closets, ceptic tank and disposal field and warm air heating and ventilating system.

Bids were advertised for and it was found that the lowest bid was above the appropriation and another special town meeting was called and additional money asked for by the committee but was not granted by the town.

The building committee then proceeded to make alterations in the plans and specifications with the consent and approval of the State Superintendent of Schools and a two-roomed building has been built (by True B. Coffin of Westbrook as contractor under the direction of the building committee) with a basement, warm air heating and ventilating system and dirt toilets.

The school commenced the winter term in the new building January 11, 1926.

We as a committee regret however that the new Friends School building could not be built according to the original plans with running water, water closets and a sewer system.

The toilet system was changed at the Anderson School during the summer vacation by building a new shed and dirt toilets the required distance from the school room with walks between which brings this schoolhouse up to the requirements of the State laws.

We now have five new and up-to-date school buildings in town namely the High school, John A. Andrews, So. Windham, Newhall, Windham Hill and Friends.

The North Windham, Ireland and Anderson schoolhouses are within the requirements of the State laws but are not modern. The school buildings at the Center, Kennard, Knight and Bodge schools will have to be put in shape to comply with requirements of the State laws before Sept. 1927 and it is quite a problem to know what to do with these buildings as they are very old, low, small buildings poorly lighted and poorly located with no play grounds at all.

The Committee recommends the following appropriations:

Teaching and transportation,	$ 9,500 00
Fuel,	1,500 00

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

So many events have occurred during the past school year that it is impossible for me to touch on all of them in this, my first annual report. I wish however to speak of some of the more important phases and bring to the attention of the citizens some of the plans for the ensuing year.

TEACHERS

This year fifteen teachers remained with us for another year. This is a large percentage, and the town is fortunate in this respect, for only in this way is it possible to secure real and lasting efficiency in our schools. The following table shows our teachers, their positions, education and experience.

On the whole progress has been satisfactory, and teachers and school officials deserve the support of the citizens in their efforts to give Windham the best of schools.

HIGH SCHOOL

The High School did not open until a week after the Common Schools owing to the fact that the repair work was not finished as soon as was expected. However the improvements, especially the new heating plant, running water, modern toilets, and increased laboratory space were much needed and are very satisfactory.

Mr. Bradford has the school well organized and is besides an excellent instructor. This, together with the close co-operation of an efficient corp. of teachers, has combined to make Windham High School a school which will compare very favorably with any high school of the same size in the state and is a school of which Windham may well be proud.

FRIENDS SCHOOL

This new modern two-room building is much appreciated by the community, teachers and school officials. At the beginning of the fall term, two teachers were placed in charge where but one teacher had been before. The upper grades were taught in the Old Friends school building, the low in a room in the residence of Mr. Foye. Although this room was rather small for the number of children, nevertheless it was an improvement over the crowded conditions of the year before. The pupils in this school are not up to the standard for their respective grades. This is not the fault of the past teachers, but the result of having too many pupils of all grades for one teacher to handle successfully during the past few years. Now, with two trained teachers in a modern and well equipped building, we have reason to expect that these pupils will be brought up to the standard they should attain. However in the case of the pupils in the upper grades, this goal can not be attained in one year.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

In some of the schools, such as the Anderson, Bodge and Ireland, there are too few pupils to provide the necessary class competition to secure the best work from the pupils. One or two children in a class by themselves find the work uninteresting and the incentive lacking for productive effort. Even the extra amount of individual attention which can be given by the teacher fails to make up for this lack of numbers. In this town, as in other towns, the best work by pupils will be found in those schools which have eight or more in the same class.

On the other hand, in the Newhall Primary, there are entirely too many pupils for one teacher to handle advantageously. In this school there are forty-two enrolled and all are in the first four grades.

Each school can not be taken up in this brief report, but on the whole in the schools of the town, the progress has been satisfactory and much credit is due the teachers.

COURSE OF STUDY

One thing that has been needed in our schools is a course of study to supplement the state course of study, so constructed that all teachers in all schools may work to the same ends and that the standards for the several grades may be uniform in all schools. At the beginning of the winter term an outline for such a course of study was placed in the hands of the teachers for trial in the hope that by another fall a complete course might be developed that will fully meet this need.

DUTIES OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, SUPERINTENDENT, AND TEACHERS

Sometimes a question arises regarding the powers and duties of the superintending school committee, the superintendent, and the teachers. A brief explanation of these points is the purpose of next few paragraphs.

The state law provides that the custody, care and management of the schools, including repairs and insurance; the control of teachers and school money; and the classification of scholars, are matters entirely entrusted to the superintending school committee.

The superintendent is secretary ex-officio of the school committee; he has the care of the records, reports and school accounts; nominates the teachers; supervises the teachers' work; carries out the instructions of the committee; and may have such other powers as may be delegated to him by the committee.

The authority of the teachers is delegated to them by the committee or by the superintendent acting under authority delegated to him by the committee.

APPRECIATION

I wish at this time to express my grateful appreciation to C. H. Pratt the former superintendent for the praiseworthy manner in which he left the records, accounts and other union matters.

CONCLUSION

I wish to thank the School Committee for their aid and assistance, the town officers for their courtesy, the teachers for their loyalty and co-operation, and the citizens for their interest and encouragement during the past year.

If there is anything about this report, or in the financial statement which follows, that any of the citizens do not understand, I would be very glad to explain it to them individually or collectively at the annual town meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

F. M. COOMBS,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL

To Mr. Frank M. Coombs, Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit my second report of the conditions of Windham High School.

Our enrollment this year is 71; cases of tardiness 129, present every day 31; not tardy 38; tardy over fifteen times 2; tardy over seven times 4. This showing, except in the cases of six students which accounted for 64 of the 129 cases of tardiness, is very satisfactory. The rule that any student having an average of 90%, or better, may be exempt from taking the second and fourth examinations, provided that student has not been tardy, dismissed, or absent, except for sickness, more than twice, has had a good effect on attendance. It is noticeable that, of the six students who have been tardy more than seven times, none have attained a rating above a red "W" and with two exceptions have not attained even that. This indifference in regard to attendance is accompanied by poor work in the studies. This habit, developed in school, pursues the student in after life and militates against his success. The following students have a perfect attendance record for the first half of this year: Gladys Foye, Hazel Greenlaw, Carolyn Strout, Geneva Woodman, Lloyd Douglas, Lillian Libby, Marguerite Morrill, Fannie Plummer, Eudora Rogers, Julia Rogers, Henry Strout, Alvan Chandler, John Dillon, Louis Harriman, Marjorie LeGrow, Annie Lord, Emma Morse and William Plummer.

The excess-credit system seems to be working well.

A new ruling has been made this year that only those students attaining a red "W", or better, are eligible to hold class or other offices or to membership on any team to represent the school. At graduation last June the diplomas of the graduating class were sealed as follows: Gold Bar, none; Gold, Ruth Seavey, Rachel Small, Owena Sylvester; Silver, Helen Hawkes, Marjorie Loveitt, William McPhee, Prescott Murphy; Blue, David Taylor; Red, Cedric Foster.

The undergraduates were awarded letters as follows: Gold Bar, Inez Wescott, Muriel Freeman, Geneva Woodman, Mary Pendexter, Margaret Ward; Gold, Francis Fogg, Louise Kennard, Lillian Lamb, Florence Ward, Christine McDonald, Robert Wescott, Doris Atherton, Bernece Lord, Julia Rogers, Henry Strout. Silver, John Nash, George Forbes, Lena Andrews, Ida MacDonald, Etta Perkins, Raymond Eastup, Lillian Libby, Eudora Rogers, Elizabeth Stone, Robert Stone, Horace Smith. Blue, Gladys Foye, Carolyn Strout, Chas. LeGrow, Philip Cook, Isabelle Hawkes, Marguerite Morrill, Pauline Sylvester, Josephine Smith. Red, Hazel Greenlaw, Elmer Carll, Gertrude Haskell, Lloyd Douglas, Helen Murphy, Lillian Brown.

First and second places for good conduct were awarded the classes of 1927 and 1926 respectively. The banners of these two classes with the colors of the losing classes attached to them are on display in a case in the main room. One credit was awarded to each of the following students for especially good conduct: Helen Hawkes, Rachel Small, Gladys Foye, Louise Kennard, Muriel Freeman, Isabelle Hawkes, Ida McDonald, Christine McDonald, Geneva Woodman, Mildred Timmons, Lillian Libby, Mary Pendexter, Fannie Plummer.

The Alumni Association Senior Scholarship prize of ten dollars was awarded to Rachel Small.

The Governor Andrew prize of ten dollars for the best Junior essay was awarded to Florence Ward.

In both of the foregoing cases the decision was unanimous.

By a process of elimination in which every student in school participated the following students were selected to compete at the preliminary speaking contest: Elmer Carll, Francis Fogg, George Forbes, Madeline Marsh, John Nash, Prescott Murphy, Lillian Lamb, Ruth Seavey David Taylor, Florence Ward, Margaret Ward, and Geneva Woodman.

John Nash was chosen to represent the school at the Y contest in Portland, Ruth Seavey was chosen the first girl, Prescott Murphy the second boy and Lillian Lamb received honorable mention.

The athletic teams have done good work. The girls basketball team under the coaching of Mrs. Shaw, and the boys team with Mr. Shaw have played good clean games. I understand that there has not been an instance where a Windham player has questioned the judgment of an official. In my opinion that is the fundamental lesson in good sportsmanship. Rough tactics and improper language are not in evidence.

While we are putting especial emphasis on good scholarship we are endeavoring constantly to infuse a spirit of fair play, thrift, civic pride and those other virtues that make for better citizenship. I am pleased to say that the students are responding in fine shape. Through their co-operation the new finish in the basement is neat and clean. The toilet rooms, which are so often disfigured, are as clean and free from marks as the day they were finished. To a unit the pupils are showing an appreciation of this long felt want. The walls in the corridors and rooms above should be re-decorated and the marks that have accumulated for years removed. If this could be done I think that students who are now in school can be relied upon to keep them free from marks and pass on this tendency to following classes.

The morale of the school is very good. I have found it necessary to discipline in only a very few cases. None of these have been of a very serious nature but just a little exuberant infraction of the rules. In every case the student disciplined has come across clean and shown no sign of rankling. I can speak only in the highest terms of all the classes, but cannot refrain from mentioning especially the Senior class. They are good faithful students all, free from the petty quarreling and that independent "I should worry" attitude characteristic of so many classes during the last year in High school.

Again I wish to commend the students for their loyalty, endorse the teachers and school officials for their faithfulness and thank the community for its kindly interest and expressions of appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY L. BRADFORD,

Principal of Windham High School.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

To Mr. Frank M. Coombs, Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit my third annual report of Vocational Agriculture at Windham High School.

Probably the most outstanding development which has influenced the teaching of Agriculture at Windham High School during the past year is the wonderful change of facilities and equipment which took place during the summer vacation. The Agricultural Department has always been handicapped somewhat by being obliged to conduct its classes in basement rooms. In previous years it almost seems that the work of the Agricultural Department has been carried on slightly below the level of some of the other departments in school, first because the classroom was in the basement, and secondly because of the most prominent, immediate surroundings, a necessarily dark and dusty furnace room. However, the once conspicuous above mentioned conditions are no longer prevalent. In their place there are remodeled, appropriately arranged, properly lighted, and heated rooms. It is difficult to explain the effect of these changes upon the classroom work. The effect upon the students was noticeable on the very first day of school in September. The students, I believe, take pride in their new surroundings. This is manifested by the manner in which they have taken care of the new rooms and equipment. I feel that I should take this opportunity to express, in behalf of the students, who have to spend considerable time in the basement rooms, an appreciation to the citizens of the Town of Windham who made these changes in conditions possible.

In my previous reports I have outlined the course of study for Vocational Agriculture. This course of study was arranged after a very careful consideration of the general agricultural conditions in Windham. It was first put into operation in September 1923, and as the course is operated on a two year basis, it was completed in June 1925. Judging from results the plan has proved quite satisfactory. This same general plan of work, with a few minor changes, was again put into operation in September 1925.

The most important developments by the freshmen and sophomores who are studying Poultry Husbandry are: housing, feeding, crate fattening of birds before killing, dry picking, and preparing the poultry products for market. Following the slogan that, "Learning by doing is the best," a class project was carried on during November. This consisted of crate fattening, killing and dressing twelve birds. The birds were owned by the boys and practically all of the work was done by the different members of the class. This project was used as a basis for classroom discussion, and many interesting problems were worked out. The final results showed that there was a net profit of approximately sixteen cents ($.16) for every pound of weight gained. Many of the boys became quite expert in killing, picking and dressing poultry. The sticking and dry picking method being used exclusively. Plans are now underway to incubate, brood and feed some chickens as a class project.

The juniors and seniors have spent considerable time in reading references and discussing many of the important problems which confront the orchardist. Thus far very practical work has been done in connection with the enterprise. However plans are underway to do practical work along the lines of pruning, grafting, spraying, and the setting of young trees. In addition to the work that this group of students has done on orcharding, time has also been spent at testing milk. This is a process that requires skill and accuracy. The only way that this skill and accuracy can be acquired is by continued experience. In addition to the time spent in studying the method and practicing, these boys have tested approximately twenty-five samples of milk for local farmers.

The custom established in the summer of 1924 of sending a stock judging team to Bangor Fair was followed last summer. The boys representing Windham High last year were Elmer Carll, Prescott Murphy, and Henry Strout. These boys made a creditable showing, but were unsuccessful in winning any of the team prizes. However, Elmer Carll was successful as an individual judge of the Holstein-Freisian breed and was awarded for his skill. This work will be continued and it is our aim this year to win one of the team prizes.

Although the study of Vocational Agriculture is outlined to be of direct benefit to those students who attend the classes, there are many ways by which the farmers of the community might also derive direct benefits. I would like to take the opportunity through this report to urge more farmers to call upon this department to help solve any agricultural problems they may have. We are especially equipped to do work and give advice concerning so called modern scientific farming, such as testing milk, figuring and mixing rations, testing soil, pruning, spraying, etc. An attempt is being made by the Agricultural Department to make a complete survey of the farms in the Town of Windham. Many of the farmers have been approached, but there are still others whom we have been unable to reach as yet. I hope we will receive the best of co-operation from all the farmers in this matter, because the information secured is to be used in an attempt to make the teaching of Vocational Agriculture more beneficial to the individual needs of Windham.

The total enrollment of boys in Vocational Agriculture for the school year 1925-26 is eighteen. Nineteen enrolled at the beginning of the school year, showing that only one has dropped out. This does not show any gain over last year, but I think practically every one of these eighteen boys are of the type who will continue their education.

At the present time there are no outstanding needs of this department. The school officials have always given the best of support in caring for the necessary needs from time to time. The running water, new laboratory table, and the new black board are certainly valuable additions to the working equipment and are greatly appreciated.

Finally, I want to express my appreciation to the school officials of Windham who co-operated with me last summer and made it possible for me to attend summer school at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. I gained much valuable information, consequently I feel that I am better equipped to perform my duties in a more efficient manner.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. SHAW,

Instructor of Agriculture.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

To Mr. Frank M. Coombs, Superintendent of Schools:

Each year there seems to be an increase of girls in the Home Economics Department. There are thirty-one enrolled. Seven girls from the Freshman class, thirteen from the Sophomore class, five from the Junior class, and six from the Senior class.

The smaller classes can be accommodated conveniently but it has become necessary to divide the Sophomore class so that each girl will have a chance to cook one day a week. In January the Senior class served a dinner to the scholars. The money obtained from the dinner will be used by the Seniors for graduation. Sometime in the spring the Juniors will prepare and serve a dinner to the school board and the faculty.

The girls are encouraged to practice at home what they learn in school, and for this reason we try to make the courses both practical and interesting.

The subjects taught in the department are many, including care and serving of foods, planning and cooking of meals, invalid cookery, hygiene, house furnishing and management problems, from the sewing point of view the subjects studied are textiles, dress making, darning, patching, fancy work and laundering.

Home Economics has its place in the rural district as well as the city and with the addition of running water and the co-operation of the girls enrolled in the Home Economics course at Windham High School we can compete with the city schools.

Respectfully submitted,

DORIS L. FILES,

Home Economics Instructor.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of the Town of Windham:

We the superintending school committee submit the following report for the year 1926.

Repairs have been made to the various school buildings as follows. In the high school, the walls have been painted on the first floor and new shades installed. At the Arlington school, a new heater has been installed and a new wire fence put around the school. At the Kennard school, the walls have all been painted, and the ceiling also; new seats have been installed and chemical toilets built in the entry. At the Knight school, the walls and ceiling have been painted. At the Friends school, a woven wire fence has been erected around the school and electric lights installed in the building.

This next year, we recommend fencing of the other new buildings especially the John A. Andrew and Newhall schools.

At the present time, all the school buildings comply with the law except the Knight and the Center schools.

The committee recommend the appropriations explained in the Superintendent of School report, which follows.

We refer you to the report of the Principal of the high school as regards the unusually high enrollment and the prospects of an higher enrollment next year.

Respectfully submitted,

TEACHERS

Out of 15 elementary teachers in this town, 6 or more than one third left this year and had to be replaced. If we counted the Bodge school this figure would be higher.

A teacher turnover of more than one third is not good school business. No new teacher, no matter how well trained can do good work at the beginning of the year. It is interesting to note that not more than two of these new teachers are normal school graduates. Perhaps our salary rate is not high enough to attract normal graduates.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS

No changes has been made at the high school. This is indeed a good thing as it helps to get our school in good standing. I can say that all of our high school teachers are doing good work.

The following table shows the name, position, education, experience and salary of our high school teachers.

COURSE OF STUDY

Mr. Coombs stressed last year a course of study. Much has been done along this line and although the course of study is not on paper, we have one. Uniform textbooks have been provided, teacher meetings have been held and outlines of work have been given so that at this time each teacher is using the same textbook and doing about the same work for each grade. A printed course of study is not worth a great deal as it must be more or less out of date. It is much better to outline work at teacher meetings.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

The School houses are in good repair and condition. We have five modern and up to date buildings. We have five buildings in good repair. The Center school in the old town house can never be more than a makeshift. The Arlington school needs quite a lot of changes. This is asked for this year. If this work is done we shall have a good creditable school at North Windham.

We need new blackboards, new maps, reference books in many of our rural schools. Now that the toilets in all our schools meet with state approval, we shall start taking care of these things.

Schools that are near the electric lines should be wired. This can be done at small expense. Other towns are wiring their rural schools.

There is need for music instruction in all our schools. It can hardly be expected that the average rural school teacher can teach music.

Attention is called to the crowded conditions at the high school, also to the impossible task of fitting the seventh and eighth grade pupils properly, for high school, in our rural schools. The suggested remedy is the establishment of three more or less Junior high schools, one at North Windham, one at the Center and one at South Windham. This can be done at little expense to the town as we would use the present school buildings and simply arrange the program for two or three extra teachers.

APPRECIATION

At this time, I want to thank our former Superintendent, the school committee, the citizens and the teachers for their most valuable aid and help. Without this, I would not have been able to accomplish the little that I have done.

FINANCES

This year a little different plan has been tried as to the manner of raising the money necessary for the support of the schools. This plan has the advantage of helping the bookkeeping. Instead of putting each item separately in the Warrant as usual, we have grouped these items together and asked for the lump sum. The following tables show how this amount has been figured.

teaching and conveyance,	$ 9,500 00

REPAIRS

For common schools,	$ 1,200 00
repairs at Arlington school,	1,000 00

The only increases over last year's appropriations are for textbooks and supplies besides the special repair articles.

The repairs at the Arlington school are for the installing of a new floor in the Primary room, for modern desks in the whole school, for the necessary painting, and for other incidental repairs.

The repairs at the high school are for grading in front of the building, for shingling the horse sheds, for finishing the wiring, and for general incidental repairs.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK H. AIKINS,
Superintendent of Schools.

Attention is directed to the reports of the Principal of the High School and to the reports of the Vocational Instructors, which follow.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL

To Mr. Frederick H. Aikins, Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit my third report of the conditions of Windham High School.

Our enrollment this year is 84, an increase of 13 over last year. This increase is due in part to the retention of a greater proportion in the upper classes and an influx from other schools. Eight students in the upper classes attended other high schools last year. While this increase is gratifying it has introduced a crowded condition. To meet the situation the rows of seats have been doubled up and the isles narrowed. Should there be a further increase next year the condition would become serious. A survey ought to be made before the end of this year so that provisions could be made for any alternations before the beginning of next year.

The cases of tardiness for the first half of this year are 51; present every day 38; not tardy 52. I try to keep my watch at standard and consider as tardy a student who is not in his seat when the 8 o'clock bell rings. If conditions seem to justify I do not consider a student tardy provided he gets into the building before the bell rings. I allow the student to write their own excuses until they have been tardy, absent, or dismissed twice. After that they must bring excuses from home. After a student has been absent, or tardy five time I expect the excuse within forty-eight hours or send him home after it. Students receiving 90% in a subject may be exempt from the second and fourth written examinations provided he has not been absent, tardy or dismissed more than twice. Students living at a distance are allowed one extra case of tardiness for each mile or two. For every excuse, not in the last day of the month, I subtract 1% from the monthly rank.

The following students have a perfect attendance for the first half of this year. Lindley Varney, Muriel Freeman, Geneva Woodman, Lillian Libby, Bernece Lord, Madeline Marsh, Mary Pendexter, Fannie Plummer, Annie Proctor, Margaret Ward, Marjorie LeGrow, Emma Morse, Eleanor Sylvester, Doris Anthoine, Lois Atherton, Marion Bracket, Irene Bromley, Lewis Cobb, Emery Edgerly, Dorothy Hawkes, Florence Kimball, Emma Pendexter, Mary Reeves, Elva Lamb, Julia Rogers, Marguerite Morrill, William Plummer.

In addition to the foregoing the following have not been tardy: Louis Harriman, Annie Lord, Louine Manchester, Mildred Varney, Merton Harriman, Irene Morrill, Ruth Neeley, Guy Sawyer, Isabelle Hawkes, Ida McDonald, Etta Perkins, Ernestine Brown, Lloyd Douglass, Helen Griffin, Beatrice Mason, Eudora Rogers, Henry Strout, Josephine Smith, Elizabeth Brown, Charles Brown, Alvan Chandler, Dale Badger, Ernest Timmons, Eleanor Westcott, Pauline Sylvester.

At graduation last June the diplomas of the graduates were sealed as follows: Double Gold Bar, Inez Wescott; Gold Bar, Louise Kennard, Lillian Lamb, Owena Sylvester, Florence Ward; Gold: Frances Fogg; Silver: Gladys Foye, John Nash, Carolyn Strout, Victor Taylor; Blue: Hazel Greenlaw, Charles LeGrow.

The undergraduates were awarded "Ws" as follows: Double Gold Bar: Muriel Freeman, Bernece Lord, Mary Pendexter, Dale Badger, Eleanor Sylvester, John Dillon, Mildred Varney; Gold Bar: Geneva Woodman, Eudora Rogers, Julia Rogers, Elisabeth Stone, Margaret Ward, Alvan Chandler, Henry Plaisted, Rose Plaisted, William Plummer; Gold: Etta Perkins, Robert Wescott, Doris Atherton, Lillian Libbey, Henry Strout, Frank Forbes, Marjorie LeGrow, Annie Lord, Emma Morse; Silver: Philip Cook, Isabelle Hawkes, Ida MacDonald, Raymond Eastup, Josephine Smith, Robert Stone, Laurretta Pratt; Blue: Elmer Carll, George Forbes, Pauline Sylvester, Percis Durant, Marguerete Morrill, Helen Griffin, Agnes Cannell; Red: Lloyd Douglas, Madeleine Marsh, Fannie Plummer.

First and second places for good conduct were awarded the classes of 1929 and 1926 respectively.

The Alumni Association Senior Prize of ten dollars was awarded to Florence Ward.

The Governor Andrew Prize of twelve dollars was awarded to Ida MacDonald.

By a process of elimination in which every student in school participated the following students were selected to compete at the preliminary speaking contest: Lillian Lamb, Carolyn Strout, Florence Ward, Inez Wescott, Elmer Carll, Muriel Freeman, Geneva Woodman, Margaret Ward, Henry Strout, John Dillon, Frank Forbes, Lewis Harriman.

The first prize, a loving cup, and the honor of representing the school at the "Y" contest was awarded to Lillian Lamb.

Second prize for girls was awarded to Muriel Freeman. First prize for boys was awarded to John Dillon. Florence Ward received honorable mention.

In a special trial contest, Florence Ward was selected to represent the school at the Spear contest.

The athletic teams under the coaching of Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have done good work. The cross-country team won the Gorham Normal Conference trophy cup, and took third place at the Legion meet at Freeport. Both the girls and boys basket-ball teams have won more than half their games.

The financial condition of the athletic association is good.

Balance, Jan. 20, 1927,	$ 18 88

Note: All bills are paid except hall rent for two weeks.

By setting aside 10% of the proceeds of all school entertainments we have added to our library equipment. The following is the financial statement of the library fund.

Total receipts,	$ 40 01
Paid out for books,	25 00
Balance, Jan. 20, 1927,	$ 15 01

Our library is growing and has already out grown the case. It is now necessary to stack the books in the case two deep. Provision should be made for increasing the size of the case.

Librarian, Muriel Freeman.

Assistant Librarian, Mary Pendexter.

As a lesson in citizenship, all officers for classes and associations are elected by Australian ballot. Election day is the day before graduation. Candidates for class officers must be in full standing and "W" students. Candidates for other offices must be "W" students. Candidates for athletic teams must be "W" students. To be qualified to vote a student must have passed in 15 hours during the year.

During the past year work has gone on smoothly. There seems to be a larger proportion of studious pupils. There are some, however, who are not getting the most out of the high school course. Such students need constant advise and encouragement, accomplished by more or less urging, until they can more fully appreciate the advantages of a high school course. The greater part of this advise, encouragement, and urging, must come from parents. Study at home is necessary. I advise three hours, and suggest that four would be profitable.

I have found the community friendly, the teachers and school officials helpful, and the pupils industrious and loyal.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY L. BRADFORD,

Principal.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

To Mr. Frederick H. Aikins, Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit my fourth annual report of Vocational Agriculture at Windham High School.

In my estimation one of the most outstanding conditions which developed in connection with the Agricultural department during the school year 1925-26 was the fact that such a large percentage of the boys enrolled at the beginning of the school year in 1925, remained in school and finished their year's work. Nineteen boys were enrolled in September 1925 and in June 1926 eighteen of these boys had completed or had made arrangements to complete their year's work. In years past a large percentage of the boys who saw fit to choose agriculture as one of their studies have dropped out of school. This condition, I believe has seriously handicapped the progress of the course.

A practice has been inaugurated, whereby during the first two days of school each new student who manifests his interest in the study of agriculture is given a private conference. During this conference an attempt is made to ascertain whether or not the student is really sincere in his desires. This practice seems to have a tendency to bring the right type into the Agricultural Department.

The class room work is being conducted along the same general plan as has been outlined in my previous reports. Supervised home projects are required and carried on by all the students enrolled.

After two previous unsuccessful attempts, the Windham High School stock judging team succeeded in bringing home the honors from Bangor Fair last August. This contest is an annual event and is referred to as the State judging contest for Vocational Agricultural students, sponsored by the Bangor fair association. Sixteen teams representing high schools from all sections of the state competed, Elmer Carll, Henry Plaisted, and Henry Strout represented Windham High and they deserve much credit for the honors which they attained.

Elmer Carll, who has been a leader in agricultural work since he has been in high school was rewarded by a free trip to the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield last fall. This trip was made possible by the State Chamber of Commerce and Windham was certainly fortunate in being represented in that group of boys and girls selected by the above mentioned organization.

Windham High was also represented last October at the annual high school day for Vocational Agricultural students held at the college of Agriculture of the University of Maine. This high school day, so called, consists of a stock judging contest, a potato judging contest, and individual contests in tying knots, splicing rope and killing poultry. In addition to encouraging the acquiring of the above named skills a contest of this type gives the boys an opportunity to visit the college of Agriculture and possibly arouse an interest toward higher education. The boys who represented Windham High School were William Plummer, Frank Forbes, Henry Strout and Raymond Eastrys. Our boys did not succeed in winning any first places. The judging team finished among the first half of the seventeen schools represented, and Raymond Eastrys made a very creditable showing by finishing third in the rope work contest. Last year was our first attempt at this contest and we are now laying plans to make a better showing next year.

The total enrollment for the school year 1926-27 is twenty. The freshmen and sophomores are a particularly promising group. Nearly all the boys live on farms of considerable size. They are boys who are seriously considering farming as a life's work, making nearly an ideal vocational group.

I might take the opportunity through this report to answer some questions which have been brought up by different people concerning the teaching of agriculture.

How many different high schools in the state have vocational agricultural courses?

At the present time there are nineteen. This number is constantly increasing. There are two in Cumberland County, Windham High and Greeley Institute.

What are the boys doing who have graduated from the agricultural course during the past five years?

Nine boys have graduated. Five of these are at home on the farms. Two are working in Windham. One is going to school and one is out of town. The results of a recent survey of the United States showed that 54% of the students given vocational instruction are now farming.

How much times does a student who chooses an agricultural course devote to studying agriculture?

Each student is required to take three academic studies in addition to agriculture. Each school day two periods of 40 minutes each are devoted to agriculture and three periods to academic studies.

Can a student go to college if he studies the agricultural course?

Upon completion of the agricultural course in a satisfactory manner he is qualified to enter the University of Maine, college of Agriculture. He is not qualified to enter college to study other professions.

What does the Vocational Agriculture cost the town?

According to present arrangements I teach the sciences (chemistry, physics, biology and general science) in addition to agriculture. This means that each school day of seven periods I teach four periods of agriculture and three periods of science. The answer to the above question may be summarized as follows:

475 from town for Agriculture.

$950 from state and federal aid.

$675 from town for sciences.

I am aware of the fact that there are some who would have agriculture removed from the high school curriculum. Perhaps the accomplishments of the past have not been extremely gratifying. I do not believe that we should judge wholly on past records, but look for the possibilities of the future. The age of specialists has arrived, and I sincerely hope that the citizens of Windham will not reprove their future citizens of the opportunity to specialize in agriculture, which seems to be the leading industry of the town.

General conditions in the Agricultural Department are good. The students appear to be ambitious, interested and attentive. The school officials are always willing to co-operate and give due consideration to all of the needs of the department.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. SHAW,

Agricultural Instructor.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

To. Mr. Frederick Aikins, Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit my second annual report of Home Economics at Windham High School.

The aim of the Home Economics course at Windham High School is to adopt a course of study to the age and characteristics of these girls; to develop interest by a variety of work rather than just cooking and sewing.

The subjects taught in the department include, first, care and serving of food, planning and cooking of meals, invalid cookery, and food preservation; second, clothing problems such as stitches used in plain sewing, patching, darning, fancy work, dress making, and the study of fabrics in regard to quality, durability, and comparative cost; third, household duties such as care and cleaning of various rooms, furniture, and dishes; hygiene and home nursing problems which include general sanitation in the home, personal hygiene, care of the sick room and every day first aid.

Last year the Seniors raised more money than usual at Town Meeting due to the fact that each had a definite bit to do. This spring as usual the Juniors will prepare and serve a dinner to the school board and faculty. Frankforts are sold at various times to get money to purchase new equipment for the laboratory.

The new sewing machine is greatly appreciated by all especially the Freshmen.

The Home Makers' Educational Service has been very generous to the department in sending free supplies and literature every month.

There were twenty seven girls enrolled at the beginning of the fall term. Six girls from the freshman class, six from the sophomore class, eleven from the junior class and four from the senior class. One girl from the sophomore class and one girl from the junior class have left school. This is a decrease from last year, but I think each girl is interested in her work.

If you did not see the exhibit last June plan to see it this year.

Respectfully submitted,

DORIS L. FILES,
Home Economics Instructor.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Superintending School Committee submit the following report:

Our school buildings as a whole are in very good condition, but there are certain necessary repairs that have to be made from year to year.

During the past year quite extensive repairs have been made on the Arlington schoolhouse. The Primary room has been enlarged by removing the partition and chimney, and by extending the room toward the shed. A new hardwood floor has been laid in this room, and new seats have been installed in both rooms. The shed also has been remodeled. The expense of these repairs was partially covered by the special appropriation of $1,000 raised at our last town meeting. This building is still in need of a better lighting system, an outside entrance, and other minor repairs.

The Ireland schoolhouse has been shingled. This building needs modern seats and new blackboards, otherwise it is in fair condition.

A concrete floor has been laid in the basement of the Friends school building.

The unused room in the J. A. Andrew building has been fitted up for the Junior High School, and a new fence has been built around the school lot.

The recitation rooms in the High School building have been newly wainscotted and varnished. A wooden floor has been laid in the Agricultural room, and one in the attic to provide a storage room. Other minor repairs have been made about the buildings.

During the coming year several of our school buildings will need painting, and some of the yards will need fencing.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED L. HASKELL,
STELLA M. CURRIER,
W. P. HAWKES,
Superintending School Committee.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Superintending School Committee and to the Citizens of the Town of Windham:

I have the honor to submit my second annual report.

TEACHERS

Changes have been made as follows: at the John A. Andrew school. By vote of the town a Junior High School was established beginning with the fall term 1927. Carroll D. Tripp, a graduate of Colby college, class of 1926 was elected principal at a salary of $1,600.00 dollars per year or 200.00 dollars more than was paid Mr. Libby, who resigned this position to accept another one in Massachusetts. Also, Eva L. Grant was elected to the new position of Junior High teacher. Miss Grant has had one year at Colby College and also studied at Bates Summer school. She taught a rural school in New Gloucester last year. In reorganizing the grades at this school so that we could have the seventh, eighth and ninth grades in one room, it became necessary to hire a part time assistant for Miss Knight's room. Hazel Greenlaw, a graduate of Windham High School was engaged for this work at a salary of 5.00 dollars per week.

At Newhall, Mrs. Marion Aikins was engaged to teach the four upper grades. Mrs. Aikins is a graduate of Gorham Normal School and has had three years experience teaching in Maine and New Hampshire.

At the Friends school, Miss Lucy Beatty was transferred from the Hill school to be principal.

At the Hill school, Mrs. Lucie Brown Libby was engaged. Mrs. Libby is a graduate of Gorham Normal School and has had several years experience teaching before she was married.

At the Kennard school, Mrs. Evelyn Burgess was engaged to teach during the spring term and was re-elected for the next year.

At the Ireland school, Miss Clara Nash of Windham was secured. Miss Nash is well known to Windham people and needs no introduction.

At the Arlington school, we have had two teachers. Miss Beryl Collier, a graduate of Gorham Normal school for the fall term and Miss Florence Doughty, who has had two years training at Bates College and several years experience in teaching.

The Bodge school was reopened by vote of the town and we have an enrollment of 4 pupils. Miss Gladys Foye of Windham was secured for this place. She is a graduate of Windham High School, of North Yarmouth Academy and has studied one summer at Gorham Normal school.

No other teacher changes have been made except at the high school. This will be taken up under the heading, "High School".

At the present time we have 16 common school teachers, 4 high school teachers, 2 Junior High teachers and 1 music supervisor, making a total of 23 teachers. The superintendent draws 43.2% of his salary from the town and puts in 2 full days work each week but is unable to properly supervise the teaching work. We need a rural helping teacher who would be trained free of charge by the state and who would teach a school in town. She would only cost the town about 300.00 dollars more per year and would do untold good for the schools.

COURSE OF STUDY

An effort has been made this year to get out a workable course of study for our common schools. This has not been put on paper, yet portions of the same have been explained and discussed at teacher meetings. Our specific needs are standards that would be the same in all our schools so that the sixth grade or any other grade would be found doing the same work for the year all over town. In reading, arithmetic and English we have the standards of the authors and have tried to follow the same. Geography and history are alternated one-half year each and we have tried to reach a certain place in the book for a year's work.

Music has been added to our course this year. Most of the expense for this will be paid for by the pupils or by the school, the money being collected each week or raised by entertainments, etc. This work has proved itself and will become more valuable as time goes on. Mrs. Dawn C. Grant is the music teacher.

TEXTBOOKS

New Arithmetic textbooks have been purchased and introduced into the six upper grades this year. As fast as possible, new books are being purchased for the grades as needed and a great effort has been made to use the same textbook for each grade. However it has not seemed wise to throw away good books if they could be used.

Windham has a school enrollment of about 500 pupils. We are spending about two dollars per pupil for books each year. Not a very high figure when one considers that books wear out in about three years and that each pupil has from 5 to 8 different books.

SCHOOL LIBRARIES

A good school library is a necessity. Reference books are needed. Also many more reading books. A definite sum of money should be used each year for this purpose. As a help, different teachers have obtained the loan of a traveling library from the State. These libraries can be kept 6 months.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

In all of our schools will be found up-to-date maps and globes. Satisfactory blackboards have been installed in the Anderson school this year. With the exception of the Bodge, Knight, and Center schools, our schools meet the new state standards in regards to toilets. Repair work done will be found in the Committee's report.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED

1. We need a rural helping teacher which has been mentioned before.
2. We should reduce our rural school grades and teach only six grades in any one school. This can easily be done with very little extra expense. No new teacher would be required as we have the teacher, the room and a modern building in the Friends school. The Friends school enrollments at the present time are such that one teacher could take care of the first six grades in the Primary room and leave the other room for the seventh and eighth grades from the Friends, Center, Knight, Hill, Kennard and Ireland schools. Conveyances put on from these places would be about half paid for from existing funds used to pay high school transportation. I know of no other way to improve the standards of our schools than by teaching these two grades together. Under the present plan of breaking the winter roads, auto conveyances could be used and no pupil would have to ride over an hour. Two conveyances properly routed would cover the ground. High school pupils would also be carried.

3. We need to make improvements in our rural schools in regards to blackboards, desks, lights, and ventilation. Definite plans should be worked out and a little done each year towards the improvement of our rural schools. Electricity can be obtained at the Hill, Arlington, Kennard, Knight and Anderson schools. About half the time from the middle of November to the first of February, it is impossible to see properly in a school building that is not properly lighted. Children attending these rural schools should not be penalized for doing so.

HIGH SCHOOL

The only change made in the high school teaching force was in the domestic science department. Marada L. Johnson, a graduate of the University of Maine, class of 1927 was elected to this position at an annual salary of 1200.00 dollars. Miss Johnson is unusually well qualified to teach English besides the regular domestic science subjects.

The enrollment this year is 86. This is a larger number than we had last year in spite of the fact that a Junior High course was introduced at the John A. Andrew school in order to take care of the congestion. We have room to seat 72 pupils in the main room. These others are sitting everywhere in the building that it is possible to put seats. Not a very satisfactory arrangement. Something will have to be done about it this year if we hope to keep up the standards of this school.

VOCATIONAL WORK

This fall, 28 students were enrolled in the domestic science department. Eleven of this number were Seniors. Five were Juniors. Six were Sophomores and six were Freshmen. Work has been done in sewing, handiwork, house planning, canning, jelly making, dietetics, hygiene, home nursing, budget making, clothing and textiles. A project in biscuit making was carried on through the aid of the Royal Baking Powder Co., and prizes were given for the best biscuits. Recently, a project of serving hot cocoa at recess has been started. This cocoa is made entirely of milk, sugar and cocoa and is very nourishing. It is sold to the pupils at cost. This is not supposed to be a money making idea but was introduced because there was a real need for the same. I consider that this department is very important and should be continued at any cost. Better work is being done each year.

In Agriculture, the enrollment is 18. Divided as follows: 2 seniors, 4 juniors, 7 sophomores and 5 freshmen. All but two of these boys live on farms and have suitable opportunities to carry on the project work. One group is studying poultry and farm animals. The other group is studying dairying and orcharding. The department sent a judging team to the Bangor Fair, which placed sixth among the 13 schools represented. In the 4H club, Emery Edgerly took both the county and state honors in sweet corn growing. This is the highest award given in this state and much credit should be given to Emery for his work. The greatest need of the department, is a place for farm shop work. It has been suggested that the White school house would make a fine shop at little expense.

COURSE OF STUDY

Questions are always being asked in regards to our course of study. This is of course being changed each year to meet new conditions and to fit our conditions at the high school. This year, it is as follows:

These Subjects Required of All.

First Year	Second Year	Third Year	Fourth Year
English 5	English 5	English 5	English 5
Community Civics 3			American Social Problems 3

These Subjects Optional to All.

Gen. Math.	5	Algebra	5	Geometry	5	Rev. Math.	5
Latin	5	Latin	5	Latin	5	Latin	5
Anc. Hist.	5			Mod. Hist.	5	Amer. Hist.	5
Music	1	Music	1	Music	1	Music	1
Gen. Sc.	4	Biology	4	Chemistry	6	Physics	6
		French	5	French	5
Agriculture	10	Agriculture	10	Agriculture	10	Agriculture	10
Dom. Sc.	10	Dom. Sc.	10	Dom. Sc.	10	Dom. Sc.	10

Numerals represent number of times per week. All count one point for graduation except Agriculture and Domestic Science which count half because of laboratory work. 20 points to be taken each year. 80 points required for graduation.

General Science and Biology are alternated each year.

Chemistry and Physics are alternated each year.

Third and Fourth year Latin are alternated each year. •

Third and Fourth year English are alternated each year, unless class is too large.

Modern and American History are alternated each year.

Algebra and Geometry are alternated each year.

This year, periods in the high school have been lengthened to 45 minutes each. The school year has been lengthened to 38 weeks. New, up to date textbooks have been purchased for the Biology and Physics courses. The general mathematics books are new.

TUITION PUPILS

This year we have 5 pupils from the town of Raymond, 1 from Gorham, 1 from Standish and 1 from Sumner. Eight in all or 480.00 dollars per year. Shutting them out would not relieve our congestion.

COURSE OF STUDY

Freshmen or ninth grade take English, Algebra, Anc. History, Latin or General Science. Community Civics and English are required subjects. Others are elective.

Although an experiment, the work has gone well, and I recommend that it be continued or a substitute be offered, either paying tuition across the river to the Frederick Robie School or by a paid conveyance to the High School at the Center. We will have to fix up a recitation room in the high school hall, any way.

APPRECIATION

At this time, I wish to thank those who have made the year the success that it has been. The teachers have been very co-operative and helpful, the parents interested, and all with whom I have come in contact have been very kind. With help of this kind, there is no reason why we can't have good schools.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK H. AIKINS,

Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Superintending School Committee of Windham submit the following report for the year 1928.

Many necessary repairs have been made on our schools during the past year, but lack of funds prevented the Committee from doing many other repairs that should have been done.

Owing to the crowded condition at the High School we have been forced to use the Assembly room upstairs for a recitation room. This room has been partitioned off with a temporary wood board partition to make a small class room. There has been installed 32 new movable desks and chairs. This room is used as a home room for the Freshman Class.

This has not been a satisfactory remedy for the crowded condition, owing to the fact that the blackboard space is too small and at times the heating proposition has been a problem.

It looks as though the time had come when the whole building should be used as a school.

A change was made this year in the transportation of the scholars to the High School from North and South Windham. A contract was made with Ralph Lowell to convey the pupils by bus, the High School transportation money being used for this purpose and the scholars paid fifty cents per week besides. This has proved satisfactory so far and we recommend that a similar method be continued.

At the Arlington School, in both primary and grammar rooms five new full length windows have replaced the old ones, new shades for the windows have been purchased and a cement walk from the entrance to the road has been made. We recommend that this walk be continued to the road. A well has been dug so that drinking water may be procured on the school grounds.

A new chimney has been built at the Kennard School. The heating system here is very unsatisfactory and a new stove should be installed. Electric lights have been installed at this school.

Only minor repairs were made on the Knight School. This school is in bad condition and needs painting inside, new shades and desks.

At the Friends School the heating apparatus has been completely over-hauled, a new fire box replaced the old one and a new method of air-circulation installed. The rooms are more satisfactorily heated since this change. A storm porch was erected and the seats and desks in both rooms varnished. This building needs painting badly on the outside.

At the Newhall School minor repairs have been made, seats and desks varnished and a new drinking fountain bubbler put in place. The yard around this school should be fenced the coming year.

New blackboards have been installed at the Ireland School. New seats and desks are needed badly here.

The Hill School has been painted on the outside and new shades for the windows purchased. This building inside needs a steel ceiling, walls need painting and wood-work needs varnishing.

At the J. A. Andrew School the walls of the Hall have been painted, seats and desks varnished and the fence posts painted.

This building needs outside painting, also the walls of the class rooms.

At the Anderson School electric lights have been installed.

Several of the new school houses, as well as the High School need to be painted on the outside. The grounds around the High School should be graded, also at the Newhall and the J. A. Andrew Schools.

The Committee recommends the appropriation as given in the report of the Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Superintending School Committee of the Town of Windham and to the Citizens of the Town:

I have the honor to submit my third annual report. Very few changes have been made this year, except that the Junior high school was closed at South Windham and a bus conveyance to the High School at Windham Center substituted instead and also the Bodge school was closed because of the law in regard to school attendance.

TEACHERS

Many changes have been made in the teaching force this year. These are as follows:

At the John A. Andrew school. Everett Bolster was engaged as principal to teach the three upper grades. Mr. Bolster is a graduate of Gorham Normal School in the three year course and has had no experience in teaching. Mr. Bolster has taken hold well, is doing nice work and well liked by the pupils and by the community. No other changes were made at this school.

At the Newhall school. Elizabeth L. Stiles of Gray was engaged for the four upper grades. Mrs. Stiles has had several years experience in teaching and has come to us well prepared for her work. She has had wonderful success this year. Laura Snow of Gray was engaged last April to teach the Primary grades and has continued with us this year. Mrs. Snow is a graduate of Gorham Normal School and has had nearly a year's experience in teaching at Gray before she came to Newhall. Her work has been fine and the school shows decided improvement.

At the Friends school. Dorothy Webb of South Windham was engaged for the Primary grades. Miss Webb is a graduate of Gorham Normal School this last year and has had no other experience in teaching. She is doing well.

At the Arlington school. Frank Perry was engaged for the upper grade work. Mr. Perry is a graduate of a Canadian Normal School and has had several years experience teaching in Canada. Mr. Perry's work shows improvement all the time.

At the Anderson school. Gladys Foye of Windham was transferred from the Bodge school which was closed, for this school. She is doing fine work. No other changes were made during the fall term but due to the death of Abbie Cartland, teacher at the Center school, it became necessary to change the teacher and Helen F. Allen of Windham was engaged. Miss Allen taught at the Knight school for five years and needs no introduction to Windham people.

High school changes will be taken up later.

The work in music has been continued and the same teacher, Dawn C. Grant of Auburn engaged for this purpose. Mrs. Grant has been doing what may well be called wonderful work. From the time that she enters the school room until she backs out, she is teaching. She has organized toy orchestras in several of the schools. She has been able to start part singing in some of the schools. In the high school, she has had instrument lessons given and thus built up an orchestra which we were able to use at last graduation.

For rural helping teacher work this year, we have been able to hire Mrs. Stiles teacher at the Newhall Grammar school. Mrs. Stiles has visited all of the schools and given many helpful suggestions. She has started a great deal of interest in penmanship and several of our pupils have qualified for the different awards given by the Palmer Company. A list of these pupils will be found later.

COURSE OF STUDY

Teachers meetings have been continued, one general meeting at Gray and several at Windham. Speakers have been obtained from outside the union and from the State Department of Education. The work has been very practical and has resulted in the building up of a course of study. At the present time, all grades are doing the same work and are using the same textbooks. Specific requirements have been made for each grade and a definite time given for the completion of the work. In this way pupils can transfer from different schools within town and not suffer a great deal because of it.

TEXTBOOKS

No particular changes have been made in textbooks. In the seventh and eighth grade history, the new revised edition has been substituted for the old texts, the same author is used, however. In geography, we have continued the plan as outlined two years ago and now, new books are in use in the fourth and fifth grades. These books are thoroughly up to date and give all of the new changes in geography. We are trying out a set of sample books in physiology and if these are found satisfactory, we hope to introduce them next year. We also hope to make a change in the English books. All schools have good copies of all texts and enough to go around the classes. There should be an effort to get more supplementary readers and library books for all the schools.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED

I still wish to call attention to the fact that it is impossible under the present conditions to teach the seventh and eighth grades in our rural schools and to give the pupils the preparation needed for their work in high school. Some provision should be made to take these last two grades out of the one teacher schools just as much as we now make provision for the high school pupils to attend high school. This last year, we sent pupils to the high school from the Knight, Center and Kennard rural schools. With the single exception of two pupils from the Center school, none of these are doing work in the high school equal to the average work done by the other groups, and the fault is the town's, not the pupils as they try hard enough. They haven't had the preparation and no teacher who teaches eight grades can do the work justice. I don't care how hard they try. We have to teach more than we used to and teach it better. Standards are higher, conditions are different, and there is more to learn. The world has moved on and we must move on also. The only expense would be transportation and this would amount to less than five hundred dollars per year.

The second need is to take care of our rural schools and equip them with the same facilities that we find in our two or three teacher schools. Slate blackboards, adjustable desks, electric lights, adjustable shades, and better methods of heating and ventilation are needed.

HIGH SCHOOL

Several changes have been made in the high school this year. Due to a large enrollment we have had to use the upper hall for a freshman room and the committee have provided temporary partitions and movable desks and chairs. Blackboards have been installed on the partitions and adjustable shades on three of the windows. I would suggest that the town make some other provision for a hall and give the school the whole use of this hall and allow the high school to adjust themselves to their new conditions. It seems to me to be as important to provide for our boys and girls as it is to provide for fire engines and tractors.

The work in the high school has been put into departments and every effort has been made to get teachers who understand the subjects that they are teaching. At the present time, the principal teaches math; the assistant teaches English and the other assistant teaches French and Latin. The agricultural man teaches the sciences besides the agriculture and the home economics teacher handles the history in addition to her other duties. This is working out well, and each teacher has one spare period per day and we only have to have one or two classes in the study hall. With this new teacher for the languages, the principal has been able to look after other things which is for the good of the school.

No change has been made in the teaching staff. Miss Altie Webber of Auburn has been engaged for the new department and is doing excellent work. I do not know when I have been so pleased with a teacher's work as I am with hers. She has also been able to take charge of some of the outside activities of the school. Mention should be made at this time of the fact that Miss Thurlow attended the summer school at the University of Maine this year and took several courses in English.

VOCATIONAL WORK

This has been continued and the same teachers retained. The work is very satisfactory and for the best interests of the town. It is better to teach subjects in our high school that will interest the boys and girls to stay at home and build up the town than to teach subjects that require them to go to the city in order to earn a living.

This fall, 26 girls were enrolled in the home economics classes, as follows, 8 freshmen, 6 sophomores, 9 juniors, and 3 seniors.

Also, we had 23 boys enrolled in the agricultural classes, 3 seniors, 8 juniors, 7 sophomores and 5 freshmen. All of these boys live on farms and have suitable opportunities to carry on the project work. The department sent a judging team to Bangor Fair which placed second among the 13 schools represented. In the 4H Club, Alton Young took the county honors in chick raising. The greatest need of the department is a place for shop work. Something should be done.

COURSE OF STUDY

There has been no change from the course printed last year except as follows. English History has been added and is alternated with the Modern History. Third and fourth English classes have been so large that the work has not been alternated this year. Algebra and geometry are both taught this year instead of alternating.

This year we have 4 tuition pupils from the town of Raymond. There are no other tuition pupils.

LOSS

We have lost this year one of the most faithful teachers that we had in town. I refer to Abbie D. Cartland who died in January 1929. Miss Cartland taught three days of the winter term and then was taken sick. No children went through the grades better prepared than those from Miss Cartland's school. No teacher was more thorough than Miss Cartland, and no one tried harder to have a good school. Here the teacher worked early and late to get material for her classes and to gather new ideas for the good of her school. We have lost a faithful and tried teacher, one who never faltered or hesitated but who always went on doing the right thing. Let us stop a moment and remember Miss Abbie.

PENMANSHIP

Mrs. Stiles wishes me to mention her deep appreciation to the teachers and pupils for their cheerful co-operation in the penmanship work.

Many others would have received pins by this time but for illness in the schools.

Pupils who have completed first twenty-five drills in Palmer Method Writing and received Palmer Method Pins.

	$ 315 00

APPRECIATION

At this time, I wish to thank those who have made the year the success that it has been. The teachers have been very co-operative and helpful, the parents interested, and all with whom I have come in contact have been very kind. With help of this kind, there is no reason why we can't have good shools.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK H. AIKINS,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Your committee is pleased to report excellent progress in its program of bringing up to date our school buildings. While the need for extra funds—in addition to usual renovation appropriation—is not yet passed, it is well in hand. Our investment now in school buildings and equipment will continually call for a larger sum for upkeep than formerly needed.

We especially urge greater co-operation of parents in seeing that children are taught to respect and help preserve school books and property.

Your committee has made every effort to wisely use the generous appropriations and welcome any suggestion or constructive criticism. It may be a compliment that we get so few.

Below is given a list of 1929 improvements in addition to minor repairs with approximate cost.

J. A. Andrew, $150. Refinished one classroom. Outside paint over a portion. Varnished desks.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Superintending School Committee of the Town of Windham and to the Citizens of the Town:

I have the honor to make my fourth annual report. School conditions have remained about the same as were last year. The high school is continued with the school year of 38 weeks, the grade school with the school year of 36 weeks. The high school conveyance bus has been continued from South Windham and North Windham villages.

TEACHERS

Many changes in the teaching force will be noticed. Our low wage scale and the natural conditions of things make a constant change in teachers. It would be for the best interests of the town if we could continue our old and tried teachers. Our work in the schools would show up to the best advantage then. However, I consider that we have at the present time as good a teaching force as we ever had in town. It has been a great pleasure to work with them the past year and to have such fine co-operation both from the teachers and from the citizens. With the exception of so many absences because of sickness, we have closed a school year in fine shape.

John A. Andrew School: Here we were able to retain the services of the same teachers as we had last year. Mr. Bolster attended the Bates summer school and his experience last year makes him a very valuable teacher this year. Miss Knight attended the summer school at Gorham Normal, which was no doubt of great benefit to her.

Newhall School: Mrs. Stiles, our teacher of last year was retained this year. In the Primary room, we transferred Mrs. Lucie M. Libby from the Hill school, at her request. This has been of great benefit to the school and the work in this room is progressing in great shape.

Friends School: No change was made in the teaching force at this school.

Arlington School: In the grammar room, we were able to secure the services of Miss Annie Rogers, a teacher of four years experience in the Yarmouth and Pownal schools and a graduate of Gorham Normal School. She is doing fine work. In the Primary room, Miss Lillian Hawkes is with us for another year.

Hill School: Here we secured the services of Miss Etta Perkins, a graduate of Gorham Normal school, class of 1929. Miss Perkins is taking hold fine and doing very good work.

Center School: Here we secured the services of Miss Barbara Lymburner, of Portland. She has had four years experience and attended the summer school at Gorham Normal. Her work is very good.

Kennard School: At this school, we secured the services of Miss Ella Phinney of South Windham. Miss Phinney is a graduate of Gorham Normal school, class of 1929. She is doing good work.

Ireland School: Miss Clara Nash of Windham is with us for another year. Her work is good as always.

Knight School: At this school, we transferred Miss Helen F. Allen from the Center school at her request. Miss Allen had taught this school in the past and found it more convenient for her to get to this school. She attended the summer school of Gorham Normal this year. She continues to do the same good work as in the past.

Anderson School: At this school we have the same teacher as last year. Miss Gladys Foye of Windham. She attended the Gorham Summer school. Her work is fine.

Music: This has been continued as in the past. Mrs. Dawn C. Grant of Auburn, comes to Windham two days per week and visits all the schools in rotation. This work in music has been a fine thing for the children and I hope it will be continued by the town.

Rural Helping teacher: Mrs. Stiles of the Newhall school is our rural helping teacher. She has worked out a schedule of Saturday teaching, with the teacher visiting her school on Monday that has worked out pretty well. On Saturday, Mrs. Stiles visits one of the town schools and on Monday this teacher visits with Mrs. Stiles. In this way, the helping teacher becomes familiar with the work done in the different schools and is able to tie it up together. Very fine co-operation on the part of teachers has been experienced. In addition, Mrs. Stiles has kept up her drive for better penmanship, and I have noticed a marked improvement in this work.

COURSE OF STUDY

The new state course of study has not yet appeared. We have continued to outline our work at teacher meetings and some outlines have been put on paper for the benefit of the teachers. New outlines for certain subjects are being prepared and will appear within a few days.

TEXTBOOKS

No change has been made in the textbooks used in the town. Books have been purchased as needed for replacement, etc. One or two sample books methods are being tried by teachers with an idea toward their being adopted for use. New books have been purchased for the health and hygiene work. In Geography, we are working toward the one cycle method instead of the two cycles. In reading, we need the co-operation of the parents. Good pupils as a rule are the ones who read a lot of worth while books and magazines. Pupils should be urged to read the daily papers, good magazines and good books. Most of our teachers could use good magazines and books and if any of the parents have such that they wish to loan to the schools, they would be readily accepted.

IMPROVEMENTS

Attention is called to the work being done in the seventh and eighth grades. We can't being to give these pupils the time and attention that they need in our rural schools. Education is going forward all of the time, and the pupil who enters the high school today is expected to be better prepared in certain subjects than some of our high school graduates were, a few years ago when they graduated. We still continue to teach eighth grade English in our Freshman class of the high school and will have to do so unless something can be done for these grades. Several suggestions have been made. In my mind, the average pupil in the seventh and eight grades can get to a central school about as easily at this age as they can two years later. Better roads in the winter make it possible for us to get better conveyance. We should have a Junior High School located at Windham Center. The upper part of the high school building can be remodeled for this purpose at little cost.

A new building is needed to take care of an assembly room for town affairs and for a gymnasium for the high school. Conveyance can be worked out at little cost by hiring the bus that we have on a full time basis.

Schedules can be worked out for the senior high school and for the junior high school work. We could offer to these junior high pupils instruction in the vocational work now being conducted in the high school.

As a start towards this end the committee have been considering a plan to use one room in the Friends school for the eighth grade and having these pupils come in from the rural schools to this room. This would relieve the congestion at some of these rural schools and get our pupils better prepared for the high school. Nothing has been done about this plan, and I don't want anyone to consider that this plan has been adopted. The committee have only been considering it. Something needs to be done.

Other improvements relating to better equipped rural schools are being carried on toward completion. The report of the school committee, explains what has been accomplished this year and in another place in this report, is listed the work that the committee hope to accomplish next year.

HIGH SCHOOL

No change has been made at the high school regarding to new teachers, course of study. We have the same teachers and continue with the same courses. The use of the upper hall has been continued and will have to be continued as long as we have the present grade enrollments in the town. More pupils are going to high school each year and more are staying in the school for the complete four years.

Vocational work has been continued and we have the usual enrollments. This work offers to the boy or girl something that is going to be of great value to them in later life. The chief objective of vocational work is not the one that we see quoted so much, that of making a life job for the pupil. We are as much interested in making good citizens of our pupils as we are in finding a life job for them. There can be no doubt but that vocational work keeps a lot of pupils in school that could not stay in otherwise and this is for the advantage of both the pupil and the town.

Under this authorization it will be necessary to make a loan of $5,850.00 in May. Sufficient funds were available in the treasury to cover the account to that date.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of Windham:

The Superintending School Committee submit the following report for the fiscal year ending Feb. 1, 1931:

We are pleased to report that we have kept within the amounts of our appropriations in all instances except one small overdraft in repair accounts. Last year we raised $2,000 for repairs and cleaning which was somewhat less than the amount appropriated for the same purposes the previous year.

Shortly after the last annual Town Meeting our Superintendent and teachers of the Newhall School reported to the School Committee that the heating system in this building was very unsatisfactory. It was hard to maintain a temperature of 65 degrees, sometimes it being as low as 52 degrees. We immediately investigated this situation and found this report was true. After having a heating engineer examine this plant, he reported that it was sufficiently large to heat the entire building, including cloak-rooms and corridors, which formerly had not been heated, by rearranging the system and installing an electric fan. We decided to do this and the contract was let to Halverson Bros. of Portland for $500. Since these alterations were made the heat has been entirely satisfactory. Some filling and grading has been done along the cement walks. The school yard here should be enlarged and the entire lot fenced this year as the law requires. The necessary article for purchasing this additional land will appear in the Town Warrant.

One classroom in the J. A. Andrew schoolhouse has been refinished, and all desks in the building have been varnished. The outside of this building has been painted. The Primary room should be refinished this year.

A new ceiling has been installed in the main room of the Anderson schoolhouse. The anterooms have been refinished, and new floors and two new doors have been installed. The outside of the building has been painted and the roof repaired. Although this building is in fair condition generally, the walls of the main room should be painted.

The remainder of the ceiling in the Center schoolhouse was finished, and the room painted. A new toilet was built to comply with the requirements of the State Department of Schools. Now all our school buildings meet the requirements of this law.

New blackboards and new windows have been installed in the Knight schoolhouse besides other minor repairs. This building should have new seats, and should be wired for electric lights.

A new floor has been laid in the main room of the Kenard schoolhouse. Now this building is in fair condition except that it should be painted outside. This expense would be small as the building is made of bricks, consequently there is little woodwork to be painted.

The Ireland schoolhouse will need painting outside, and the ceiling of the main room refinished this year.

Quite extensive repairs and new equipment has been installed in the Arlington school buildings during the last two or three years, consequently but little repairing is needed. However, one roof will need shingling.

The Friends and Hill schoolhouses will need some inside refinishing this year.

HIGH SCHOOL

The main room, hall, cloak rooms, Agriculture and Home Economics rooms of the High School building have been refinished and the latter has had some new equipment installed.

Some changes and repairs have been made in the Assembly Room to accommodate the 42 pupils which we were unable to seat in the main room, owing to the crowded conditions. Probably more seats will have to be installed this coming year. If this school increases in the same proportion in the next year or two as it has in the last two years, it will be necessary to use the whole of the Assembly Room for a schoolroom, consequently the school and public functions will have to be cared for elsewhere. As this room was originally intended for school and public activities only, the heat was installed to meet this requirement, but since it has been necessary to use it for a schoolroom, the heating units are inadequate and additional radiators are needed.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED L. HASKELL,
STELLA M. CURRIER,
WM. C. HAWKES,

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Superintending School Committee and to the Citizens of the Town of Windham:

I have the honor to submit my fifth annual report. School conditions have changed little from the report that I made last year. Windham high school has increased its enrollment and we are faced with an over-crowded school for which something should be done.

TEACHERS

Very few changes in the teaching force have been made this year. No change in the elementary schools has been made and only two changes in the high school. Because of this fact, school efficiency has been kept high and we feel that better results have been obtained.

John A. Andrew School: Same teachers as last year. Mr. Bolster attended Bates summer school again this year. Mrs. Bailey attended Gorham Normal school this last summer.

Newhall School: Mrs. Stiles attended the summer school for Helping teachers at Castine.

Friends School: Due to the small enrollment, one room at this school was shut up and we are now running a one-teacher rural school. Miss Lowell is the teacher, the same one that had the Grammar room last year.

Arlington School: Here, no change was made in the teaching staff. Due to the large enrollment in the Primary room, an assistant was hired to help in this room for one-half the time. This seems to be working out very well.

No changes were made at the Hill, Center, Kennard, Ireland, Knight and Anderson schools. Miss Allen, teacher of the Knight school, attended summer school.

Music: The same general plan as outlined last year has been continued this year. Mrs. Grant, the teacher, comes to Gray on the car, is met there by automobile and carried to the schools. On Wednesdays, she visits in rotation, the John A. Andrew, Newhall and Arlington schools, putting in three-quarters of an hour to each room. On Thursdays, the rural schools and high school are visited, the Ireland, Kennard, Center, Hill one week, and the Knight, Anderson, and Friends the next week. She visits each school for one hour, and goes to the high school each week for two three-quarter-hour periods. In this way, each pupil in town gets about the same amount of music instruction each year.

Rural Helping teacher work: This has been continued. Mrs. Stiles of the Newhall school spends Saturdays during the fall term visiting the rural schools which are in session for this purpose. Mondays, the teachers of these schools visit the Newhall school. During the winter, slight changes in vacations make ten days available for Mrs. Stiles to visit the rural schools and enable the teachers to visit her school. The work has been very valuable, and is obtained at no additional cost to the Town. Miss Hale, the State inspector, spoke very highly of her visit to the Newhall school at a recent speech that she made before the Rotary club in Portland. This year, we have made a special drive to get the reading in good shape, besides continuing the other work as outlined last year.

Textbooks: No change has been made in books this year. We have replaced all books that have been worn out and bought some new readers for upper grades. A few teachers are trying out new methods of reading, with a view of adopting a new system. Parents are urged to encourage their children to read books and magazines, besides the daily papers. In this way, we can get our children to become good readers.

Course of Study: No change has been made. Some of the new course of study prepared by the State has become available for use this year and we are trying out some of it. Otherwise, we follow the same plans as last year.

Improvements: We still call attention to the crowded condition of our one-teacher schools. Teachers are doing the best that they can, but they cannot meet present day conditions in teaching by having eight grades to a room and one or two or more in each grade. We cannot prepare our pupils for high school from these schools. Our pupils coming to the high school are about a year behind those that come from the graded school. If we were not crowded at the high school, and short of teachers and teaching space, we should have made two divisions in English and mathematics. With our present conveyances, we could take care of these pupils in the junior high grades and have them together in one or two buildings with little extra cost to the Town. With our present road program and the removal of snow, most of the objections to the conveying of pupils have been overcome. We can offer good, warm and comfortable conveyance, getting the pupils at the door and taking them back again. Pupils who now have to furnish their own conveyance to the high school could be combined with these and everyone taken care of.

HIGH SCHOOL

Teachers: Three of the teachers have stayed with us this year. Miss Webber resigned to become married and we engaged Miss Lilian Ross of Kennebunkport to take her place. Miss Ross is a graduate of Bates College, class of 1930. Miss Johnson resigned to do graduate work at Cornell and we engaged Miss Beatrice Mower of Auburn to take her place. Miss Mower is a graduate of Farmington Normal School, class of 1930, and took the four years' course in Home Economics. Both of these teachers have taken hold very well and we have been very much pleased with their work.

The work of the school has continued very well considering the handicap that we are working under. This building was constructed for about 60 pupils and we have enrolled 116 pupils so far this year. We have been forced to use the upper hall for a class room for two years, which, at best, is only a makeshift and is very unsatisfactory. Seven times each day, we have to make provision for groups that are larger than 40 in number, and we have no classroom in the building that can take care of more than 25 or 30. These groups have to be taken care of in the main room or in the upper hall, and each room is not adapted for class room work. We have practically no provision for a library, no chance for noon groups at lunch time, no laboratory large enough so that we can offer laboratory work in our science classes. We are crowded in our classrooms more than half the time, each day. Conditions are such that we can't keep up to standards or do efficient work much longer. Every teacher is working under handicaps, and such conditions are not satisfactory over a long period of time. We shall graduate about 20 this year; we shall enter in the fall about 40. Several reasons for this increase are apparent. 1. More pupils go to school and stay longer now than they used to. 2. More pupils are coming to Windham high school from the lower end of the town than formerly, due to the fact that we have good bus transportation from South Windham and Newhall and because Westbrook high school is crowded and can't take tuition pupils any longer. 3. Most of our eighth grade pupils have to go to school at least one year after they leave the grammar school and hence enter the high school. These pupils stay with us after they get acquainted. 4. Due to lack of work, pupils who might have found employment in the old days, now go to school. I have made a careful study of the numbers in our grade schools for the next eight years, and if the present averages keep up, we shall have to provide for a high school to take care of about 140 to 150 pupils. It is necessary for us to have the upper hall, in our present building, remodeled for classrooms, and equipped, if we are to maintain standards. It is also necessary for us to make some changes in the present first floor to meet the conditions. I hope that the special committee that is going to report about a gym. and Town hall will report a building that can be combined with our present high school building so that we can have the use of it.

GENERAL

The superintendent spends one day in town each week visiting schools and attending to school business. He spends one day in each of the other three towns that make up this union. The rest of the time is apportioned to the towns according to the amount or percentage paid toward the superintendent's salary. In Windham, this is about 43 per cent. So the superintendent averages about two days in town each week. This does not include the night work. According to the above, it is possible to make visits to the schools about once in two weeks. A weekly report is required of each teacher, made out on a printed form, and it is possible to tell about how the schools go after reading this form. Each teacher is also required from this to make out lists of supplies and books needed, so that they can be kept supplied easier.

Each pupil in the schools is examined twice each year, by the use of standard tests. These tests have forms that have been established, from a large number of results, and by comparing our scores with the standards, it is possible for us to see how we stand. In addition to the above, each teacher has examinations from time to time as usual. For entrance to the high school, we give the State examinations.

I should like to say that I think the Town is doing well for its schools, that we have excellent teachers, good school buildings, and that every effort is being made to bring our schools to high standards. If we had fewer rural schools, fewer grades to the teachers, and larger classes, we could do better.

APPRECIATION

At this time I wish to thank all those that have worked so hard for the past five years. The work has been interesting and I hope that I have made many friends. I do not feel that the time has been wasted and think that I can see many improvements in the schools, as I look back upon the five years. I have found everybody willing to help, and have had very pleasant relations with the school committee and the community. As I go elsewhere another year, I shall have very pleasant memories of this period of time.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK H. AIKINS,
Superintendent of Schools.
